MARSHALL MAY BE FORCED TO GIVE UP JOB

Needs Long Period of Rest, Recuperation After Kidney Operation.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8—Doubt arose today whether Secretary of State Marshall ever will resume full-time direction of the nation's foreign affairs.

Marshall underwent an operation yesterday for removal of a kidney.

While word from Walter Reed hospital is that his condition is excellent, the 67-year-old cabinet officer obviously will need a long period of rest and recuperation.

Hence there is widespread speculation that President Truman some time in the near future will reluctantly accept his resignation.

The hospital, in its daily report at 10:30 a. m. today said Marshall "had a good night" and sat up in bed this morning.

The text of the statement issued by Colonel J. U. Weaver, commanding officer of the hospital:

"General Marshall had a good night and is making an uneventful recovery from his operation. His temperature, pulse and respiration are satisfactory at the present time and there is no indication of any complication. The general sat up in bed this morning."

Second Surgery Case

Marshall is the second leading figure in the government's foreign relations work to have undergone an operation within a week. Warren R. Austin, chief of the United States delegation to the United Nations, was operated on at Walter Reed Nov. 30.

Austin, whose surgery was described as "minor," is expected to be away from his duties about a month. John Foster Dulles, a Republican foreign policy adviser, is acting head of the American delegation at Paris in his absence.

Meanwhile, Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett is in charge of overall foreign policy for President Truman during Marshall's absence. Officials said there will be no gap in the handling of current problems.

Perhaps the most urgent of these is the China crisis.

Oppose "Wholesale" Aid

On this point authorities are holding firm against any aid program which would involve this country deeply in China's civil war. There appear to be no doubt now that when Mme. Chiang Kai-shek completes her mission in this country she will go home without the assurance of wholesale assistance in money, arms, technical advisers and moral support which her government has hoped to obtain.

In Europe American policies are even more solidly set along lines mainly worked out by Marshall.

Exactly how long Marshall's absence will last is uncertain at this early stage of his illness. Medical authorities consider the removal of a kidney a very serious operation. It is doubtful whether, in view of his age, Marshall will again be able to carry the load of work he had borne steadily for the past 10 years.

Marshall himself has made no secret of his wish to retire when events would permit and Mr. Truman felt he could spare him.

The belief now widely held by informed persons here is that, if possible he will retain his cabinet post at least until the inauguration Jan. 20 and perhaps a short time longer.

COUNTY GOP CLUB ELECTS FRED MILLER

Court Bailiff Named President of Group.

Annual election of officers saw Fred F. Miller, common pleas court bailiff, elected president of the Marion County Republican Club Monday night at GOP headquarters. He had served as acting president since the resignation of former president James C. Sloan several months ago.

Named as vice president was Harold Patrick. Mrs. Lucy Snyder was elected vice president to head the women's organization in the club. Mrs. Blanche Houtz was named secretary-treasurer.

Named to the board of directors were Harry D. Cahill, C. E. Shepard, William G. Slack, Mrs. Raymond Furnis and Mrs. Harold Lauer.

Marion E. Hinklin was named to head the plans for the club's annual Lincoln Day dinner.

About 80 members present heard brief talks by Congressman Smith, E. O. Uncapher, city safety-service director and Mr. Hinklin.

The Christmas Story

Illustrated by Hal Foster

NOT ALONE to the Jews did THE STAR appear; men of a different race, a different creed saw it. In far-off Persia, among the hills beyond Babylon, three wise men, Magi of the cult of Zoroaster, saw the great STAR rise in the heavens and, having read its meaning, loaded their camels with rich gifts and set out on the long, long journey to Bethlehem to do homage to the Prince of Heaven.

MEIGS COUNTY COUPLE HELD

Pair Arrested Here After Assault and Robbery of Dayton Man.

A Meigs county couple, wanted for assault and robbery, were apprehended here by local police on East Center street at 4:14 p. m. yesterday and lodged in city prison.

Arrested was Leon Dana George, 25, of near Vinton, O., and Edna May George, 21, his wife.

The couple were picked up by city police after local officers received a radio warning they might come here. The radio warning also included the license number of their new 1948 automobile, given Leon George by a veterans' agency. George is a wounded disabled veteran of World War II in which he suffered a leg wound from an enemy sniper's bullet.

Officers Come Here

Deputy Sheriff Frank Clark of Meigs county and Patrolman Grant Long of the Gallipolis police force, who arrived in Marion early today to return the Georges to Meigs county, told local officers the couple were charged with assaulting George G. Richards, 58, a printer on a Dayton newspaper. Richards told the officers the couple assaulted him with a hammer and then robbed him after having invited him to a dance. All three were in a beer garden near Middleport when the Georges invited Richards to go with them to a dance at Kygar, just over the Gallia county line. Richards told police the couple were enroute to the dance with him in their car when Mrs. George feigned sickness saying she would have to get out of the car. George stopped the car and accompanied her, leaving Richards in the car alone. Both soon returned and beat him so badly about the forehead with a hammer it took 16

N.Y.C. Declares First Dividend in 3 Years

By International News Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 8—Directors of the New York Central railroad today declared a dividend of 50 cents a share, the first in three years.

The dividend is payable Jan. 15 to holders of record Dec. 22.

The last previous dividend had been a $1 a share payment paid to stockholders in Jan. 1946.

Wholesale Eggs Drop Two Cents in Cleveland

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 8 — Big white eggs fell in price on the Cleveland market again today, down two cents to 60 cents a dozen.

That represented a drop of nine pennies in the last two weeks and the U. S. department of agriculture said eggs are still piling up.

Wholesale grade eggs have fallen 10 to 11 cents a dozen in the same period.

Return Bodies Of Marion Men

Veterns To Come Home on Army Transport Due This Week.

The bodies of two Marion men, casualties of World War II, Pfc. Joseph P. Galati, Army, and Pfc. John F. Ruhl, Army, another whose wife's home is in Marion, Capt. Robert L. Ferguson, Air Force, and three others from this area, are being returned to the United States this week from Europe aboard the U. S. Army Transport Lieutenant James E. REPORT REDS' TRAP BROKEN

Chinese Nationalist 12th Army Smashes Through Communist Encirclement.

By The Associated Press

NANKING, Dec. 8—Units of the government's hardpressed 12th army group were reported today to have smashed through Communist encirclement in the crucial battle for Nanking.

The government military news agency said these units had made contact with other Nationalist troops advancing northward from the new Hwai river defense line about 100 miles northwest of here.

There was no confirmation of the report by foreign military circles. The military news agency report had no other details.

The bulk of the 12th has been trapped nearly two weeks southwest of Suhsien, rail town 45 miles south of fallen Suchow. The army group, short of food and ammunition, is getting some supplies by air.

Meanwhile, other Communist columns were reported tightening the noose on the 250,000 government troops which abandoned Suchow a week ago in an attempt to relieve the 12th army group.

The former Suchow garrison, made up of three army groups, is trapped in a shrinking pocket about 50 miles southwest of Suchow.

Neutral military observers reported that elements of 12 Communist columns have been identified as the encircling force. Red. Gen. Chen Y was reported moving additional columns against the pocket.

The three Nationalist army groups were described as offering stiff resistance. The second army group, led by German-trained Chiu Ching-Chuan—one of the Nationalist's most respected field commanders—was bearing the brunt of the Red attacks.

TWO MEN DIE IN ACCIDENTS ON HIGHWAYS

Crawford County and Detroit Residents Killed in Two Mishaps.

Two persons died instantly in two traffic accidents reported by the Marion substation of the highway patrol in the last 24 hours.

The dead are: Lowell Gray Jr., 19, Chatfield farmer, and Irvin Graham, 72, a retired Detroit, Mich., city employe.

Mr. Gray was killed when his car crashed into a truck loaded with stone at 3:10 p. m. yesterday in Crawford counnty and Mr. Graham, a Negro pedestrian, died of multiple injuries after being struck by a car driven by Theodore Weber of Worthington nine miles northeast of Mt. Gilead at 1:40 a. m. this morning.

Stone Buries Car

The car driven by Gray was smashed under 10 tons of stone and his body was mangled, said the patrol. The collision occurred on route 19 six and a half miles north of Bucyrus at the village of Brokensword. The car was northbound on route 19 and the truck, driven by Charles Blair of near Zanesville, was headed east when the vehicles collided. Although the truck overturned Mr. Blair was uninjured.

The stone truck, owned by L. F. Schaner of Plain City, spilled its load on the Gray car and the highway patrol had to pry the body loose from the wreckage. He was apparently killed instantly, said the patrol. The car was demolished and the truck was damaged beyond repair, the patrol reported.

Sheriff Ralph Schreck of Crawford county said charges of manslaughter probably will be filed against Blair, driver of the stone truck. He said the charges are pending on the return of Prosecutor Leo Scanlon who is out of town. Blair's home is in South Zanesville but for several months he has been living in a Bucyrus trailer camp.

Hit Cross Road

Mr. Graham was crossing the road when Mr. Weber saw him, the driver told the patrol. He swerved in an attempt to miss him and the car left the road. The car was a complete loss and Mr. Weber escaped with bruises of the body and face. The body of the Detroit man was taken to the Boyd funeral home in Mt Gilead.

Mr. Graham is survived by his wife, Mrs. Irvin Graham of Detroit.

The body of Mr. Gray was taken to the P. H. Munz funeral home in Bucyrus. Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Meryl Gray Sr.; a brother, Richard Gray; a sister, Beverly Gray, and grandmothers Mrs. Joanna Gray of Galina and Mrs. Ida Oder of Lykens.

Mr. Gray was president of his graduating class at Lykens High school in 1947 and was a member of the honor society in school. He operated a farm of his own and also helped his father with his farm. The family came to Chatfield 17 years ago from Columbus.

Friends may call at the Gray home Thursday afternoon after 2 p. m. Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. James C. Hough Friday at 1:30 at the Gray home and at 2 p. m. at the Lykens Evangelical United Brethren church.

HARDING GUARD HURT IN GALION CONTEST

Dick Wolfe Suffers Possible Concussion in Game.

Dick Wolfe, guard on the Harding basketball squad, suffered a possible concussion when he was struck on the jaw in the closing minutes of play in the Galion game last night. He was taken by Hughes ambulance to City hospital where he was treated and given an examination to determine the extent of the injury.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Wolfe of 976 Girard avenue, said he slept well last night but he must remain in bed and be under close observation for 24 hours. Coach Kenneth Somerlot said he lost consciousness several times after he was taken from the game and as he was walking off the floor after the game he went limp again. Dick will not return to the Harding lineup until next week, Somerlot said.

Spy Hunters Fail To Find 2 Mystery Men

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec 8 — Congressional spy hunters failed today to locate two men accused of supplying secret government papers to Communist agents.

The names of these two mystery men have not been disclosed, but the house committee on un-American activities has made known it is looking for them.

Committee members had hoped to question them behind closed doors this morning.

But acting chairman Mundt (R-SD) told reporters the committee has been unable to serve subpoenas.

"We wish we knew where they are," he said.

The committee went ahead with its closed door session. Mundt said the group would have some other witnesses but he would not name them

In the room as members went into session were Alex M. Campbell, assistant attorney general in charge of the justice department's criminal division, and George Morris Fay, U. S. attorney for the District of Columbia.

"We just came down for a visit," Campbell told newsmen.

The committee has been looking for the two "mystery men" since Monday.

Rep. Nixon (R-Calif) said the committee is after still a third person for questioning later on. The names of all three, he told reporters, were first mentioned in New York Monday night by Whittaker Chambers, admitted former Communist courier who now is a senior editor of Time magazine.

A state department official said it appears from the committee evidence that "foreign nations" have had a good look at these diplomatic codes—and two members of the house group suggested that if one of the nations was Russia, the others probably included Germany and Japan.

As the spy inquiry supplies a spectacular finale for the nearly extinct 80th congress, there were other late developments:

►A New York grand jury continued its separate espionage investigation with U. S. District Attorney John F. X. McGohey saying it is closer than ever "to a final conclusion."

►The FBI and state department promised help to the house committee inquiry. John E. Peurifoy, assistant secretary of state, told reporters security regulations have been tightened and "I would rather think" there can be no more leaks of official secrets.

►The committee made new attempts to locate a typewriter on which it thinks some state department documents were copied.

►It tried to find out where the copies were microfilmed.

►The committee held the evening open for a possible night session with Chambers, in case the grand jury releases him.

Nixon said the three men newly named by Chambers as part of a transmission line that fed him confidential government papers all are civilians and he thinks all now are off the federal payroll

He said one used to be in the state department. Another committee member said a second worked for the bureau of standards. That left number three unaccounted for, and nobody would talk about him.

The new names, Nixon said, are in addition to that of Alger Hiss, former high state department official who now heads the Carnegie endowment for international peace.

Some Testimony Released

The commitee already has released part of the testimony in which Chambers accused Hiss of supplying secret state department documents to him in 1937 and 1938 for relay to a Russian agent

The testimony was taken in preliminaries to the trial of a

DEMAND PROBE OF SHAKEDOWN

Charge Liquor Men with Asking "Protection" Money in Circleville.

By International News Service

CIRCLEVILLE, O., Dec. 8—The Circleville city council demanded an investigation today of charges that state liquor department agents tried to shake down four private clubs for $1,000.

Attorneys for Circleville police chief said the agents asked three clubs for $600 each, and demanded $800 from the fourth club for "protection" up to Jan. 1. The attorneys, Joseph Adkins and [illegible] Crist, said the demands were made "two or three days after the Nov. 2 elections."

The council heard the charges at a regular meeting last night and authorized the city attorney to present the evidence to the Pickaway county prosecutor, and demanded that the prosecutor investigate alleged corruption and bribery in the liquor department.

Mr. Crist indirectly threatened to take the matter to the governor's office when he said:

"• • • If we don't get any action, we'll go higher than the state liquor department for a full investigation."

The council leveled its charges after Joseph Harrell, who said he represented Liquor Enforcement Chief Donald T. Geyer; William Galayda, liquor inspector in the Circleville area, and two other liquor department men who refused to identify themselves, appeared against Circleville Police Chief William McCrady.

They said Chief McCrady refused to accompany them last Saturday night on a raid on the Circleville Moose club.

The liquor agents said they left Chief McCrady when he said he would take no part in the raid until he had talked to his attorneys. The men said they went to the home of Circleville Mayor Thurman I. Miller who went with them to the Moose club, which they left without entering after no one answered the door.

Mr. Crist said an unidentified official of one of the clubs told him he had been given a Columbus telephone number and told to ask for "the chief" to verify the protection arrangements.

The official, according to Mr. Crist, made the call and was told: "'You play ball with us and we play ball with you.'"

None of the clubs were identified, nor was the type of protection arranged. However, council members speculated later that it concerned slot machines

In Columbus, a liquor department spokesman said Geyer opened an investigation of the charges last night.

Two special investigators from the department's Columbus office, Joe Harrell and William Galayda, have been ordered to "look into the matter thoroughly," the spokesman said.

"If there is a shakedown going on, we want to know about it as much as anybody," he added. "If the Circleville people want to go before a grand jury with their evidence, we will too. We're as interested as they are in getting to the bottom of this thing."

WOMAN AMNESIA VICTIM FOUND HERE

Tells Police She Can't Recall Name or Home Town.

A woman, apparently an amnesia victim, walked into city police headquarters at 9:35 p. m. last night.

She told city police she couldn't remember her identity, or where she came from, said she was tired, hungry and had no money.

Police summoned a physician who advised she be placed under the care of a matron at county jail where a rest might restore her memory. This arrangement was completed by police and the sheriff's department immediately.

A matron at the county jail reported today the woman spent a peaceful night but her condition remained the same today as last night. She also complained of pains in her head.

Her official description was reported as follows: age 45 to 50 years, height 5' 7", weight about 160, greying dark brown hair. She was wearing a light tan coat, a black hat, a dark reddish brown dress almost a maroon shade, and tan shoes.

Police reported no identification was found in her wallet while in her handbag was found a paper folder from New York, a package of book matches from Cincinnati, and a Greyhound bus ticket check to Hammond, Ind.

Anyone knowing a person who fits this description is urged to contact city police headquarters immediately as a full investigation is under way to try to determine the woman's identity.

CHARGE DROPS TO 20.9 MILLS ON NEXT BILLS

22 of 51 Districts in County Also Show Declines from 1947.

Property owners in Marion city will pay $20.90 per $1,000 of valuation according to the real estate tax schedule for 1948, released today by Maurice C. Clements, county auditor. The rate will apply to taxes due in December, this year, and next June.

The schedule of tax rates for the 51 subdivisions of Marion county as prepared by the county auditor and approved by State Tax Commissioner Ferd Becker, shows increases over last year in 25 districts. In 22 districts the rate is lower than last year while in the remaining four districts, the real estate tax load remains the same.

Tax rate for the city of Marion at 20.90 mills is the lowest since 1945 and 2.10 mills under the rate of last year.

The measure of relief to city residents came about chiefly through bond retirement both in municipal and school district categories and an increase in valuation through new buildings and remodeling.

They were sufficient to more than offset a .30 mill increase in the county general fund levy made necessary by increased county health department operating costs, increased welfare fund, the real estate reappraisal and general increase in operating costs in county departments, the county auditor pointed out.

Breakdown of Rate

Breakdown of the various levies comprising the 20.90 mill city tax as compared to the 23 mill figure of last year shows a county general fund levy for 1948 of 2.30 mills against 2 mills for 1947; sinking levy one mill, same as for 1947; school levy, 11.06 mills against 13.86; township levy of .12 against .14 and corporation levy of 5.84 against 5.94 mills for 1947.

The large reduction in millage in the school levy as shown above resulted from reductions in the amount of funds needed to meet obligations of bond retirement and permanent improvement funds. The total millage required under the permanent improvement fund and bond retirement for city schools in the 1948 schedule is only 2.60 mills as compared to 4.68 mills for 1947.

Added to liquidation of bonded indebtedness in the school program, similar liquidation was brought about in respect to city airport and sewer bonds which amounted to sinking fund payments of $30,000 on airport indebtedness and $62,000 on sewer program indebtedness this year.

City Rate Components

The various levies making up a corporation levy of 5.84 mills includes a general fund levy of 2.77 mills, police and firemen's fund levys of .30 mills each, permanent improvement fund 1.30 and bond retirement, .87 mills.

Also instrumental in effecting the reduction in the Marion tax rate was an increase in property valuation over the entire county from which all districts benefitted. The increase amounted to more than $4,000,000 according to the county auditor's records. Valuation total for 1947 was shown to be $90,000,500 while the figure on the books as this year's rates were prepared was $94,212,000 of which $48,550,820 was city valuation.

The increased valuation is not due to the countywide reappraisal now being made, the auditor said. Figures from the Cole-Layer-Trumble survey will not be available until the first of the year and will not be used until the 1949 tax duplicate is prepared, he indicated.

It was pointed out that although the reappraisal may effect a higher total valuation, it will come about only indirectly as a result of the major aim of the survey, that of equalizing property valuation throughout the county.

Lower Rate Possible

Contrary to the belief common to many, an increased valuation, if such should be the result of the equalization, normally paves the way for a lower tax rate. Inasmuch as no new levies or bond issues were voted by the city since the countywide [illegible] sinking levy for the [illegible] [illegible], it followed that the [illegible] [illegible] property valuation [illegible]

Traffic Lights 'Tilt', Drive Motorists Mad

City electricians at work at city hall had both city employes and motorists driving city streets fuming in helpless rage today.

During the process of repairing other electric lines the master control lines for the city traffic light system became aborted and both weired and baffling were the results.

Traffic lights began to blink in strange combinations with all four lights at an intersection turning red or green or yellow at the same time while the interval between light changes became equally maddening. By the time motorists at downtown intersections shifted into low gear to start forward the light had changed again. Finally all the lights suddenly went out.

City hall employes also muttered as lights flickered, went out burned brightly again, then went out a second time to stay dark. Electric adding machines and electric clocks, functioned spasmodically. Electric water coolers bubbled to a halt while only a tepid stream too small for drinking answered the press of the control button of the thirsty.

City police were ordered to all main downtown intersections to relieve the daffy traffic situation while electricians redoubled efforts to restore service under the personal scrutiny of Police Chief Marks.

Chief Marks' anxiety about the electrical situation was heightened because the power disruption halted the operations of the police radio system and the control and dispatch of police cruisers and traffic squad motorcycles had to be transferred to the private police phone circuit.

1949 DOG TAGS GO ON SALE DEC. 15

Dog tags for 1949 will go on sale at his office in the courthouse Dec. 15, County Auditor Maurice C. Clements announced today.

License fee is $1 for a male or spayed female, $3 for a female and $10 for a kennel license. Dogs three months of age must bear a tag. Deadline for the new licenses is Jan. 20.

License statistics for 1948 indicate that Marion county is rapidly "going to the dogs." There was an unprecedented total of 6,373 licenses issued during the year plus 82 registered dog kennels.

Considerable credit for the high registration was given to the vigilance of W. M. "Bill" Warner, county dog warden. More than one family has had to "bail" their favorite canine from the county dog pokey after the warden had picked it up for running loose without the required tag.

CHAPLAIN ON PROGRAM HERE

Rev. Fr. Duffy, Retired Colonel, Addresses Marion Reserve Officers.

Not only those in government and the armed forces but every civilian must be alert to subversive forces and conscious of the need of protecting the country from foreign aggression if Pearl Harbor day is never to be repeated, Rev. Fr. John E Duffy told members of the Marion Area chapter, Reserve Officers association and their guests last night at Hotel Harding. Retired with the rank of colonel after serving 15 years as an Army chaplain, Rev Duffy is pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic church at New London.

The occasion, which marked the first open meeting of the chapter, was observed with a dinner at which covers were placed for approximately 140 members and guests. The day marked the seventh anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor and Col. Duffy had as his subject, "Pearl Harbor Day in the Pacific." At this time also certificates in recognition of their participation in national defense were presented to local industries and a gift was presented to Col. Hubert L. Taylor, who left today for Fort Meade, Md., to resume active duty.

Served in Philippines

Col. Duffy, who was on duty in the Philippines when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, shared with the American and Philippine fighting men the dangers and hardships of the war, was on the Bataan death march, was confined in a Jap prison and rescued from three vessels sunk by the enemy. He gave his audience a vivid picture of how illy prepared the country was for the attack despite the events and combination of circumstances which should have served as warnings of the forthcoming attack. "We objected to Japan taking Manchuria in 1932, we had the Panay incident in 1937, we objected to Japan going into China just as we are protesting against Russia going into China today," he told his audience.

Col. Frederick T. Merchant, president of the chapter, presided, and Lt. David Pollak presented the certificates in recognition of the work done by industry in national defense. Receiving certificates were the Fairfield Engineering Co., Pollak Steel Co., Wilson Bohannan Co., Arro Expansion Bolt Co., Huber Mfg. Co., Osgood Co., Quaker Oats Co., American Malleable Castings Co., Houghton Sulky Co., Marion Power Shovel Co., Berlou Mfg. Co., Isaly Dairy Co., Universal Cooler Corp., Marion Plating Works, Coca-Cola Co., King Beverages, St. Mary Packing Co., and Fulfillment Corp. of America.

List of Guests

Guests included Brigadier General Herbert Perrin and Mrs. Perrin of Gambier, Lt. Col. John Mellish, area vice president of the Reserve Officers association, and Mrs. Melish, of Galion and members from Fostoria, Tiffin, Marysville, Delaware, Bucyrus, Galion and Mt. Gilead. Among the guests from Marion were Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V. F., pastor of St. Mary Catholic church, and Mayor H. L. Dowler and Mrs. Dowler.

Arrangements were in charge of a committee including Col. Merchant, Lt. Col. L. H. Larsen, Capt. John Turner, Capt. John B. Weaver and Lt. Pollak.

MAYOR OF BERLIN. Dr Ernst Reuter, overwhelmingly elected Social Democrat oberburgomeister (mayor) of Berlin, says his three-party coalition will continue to rule in spite of Communist claims that it is illegal. Russians prevented him from taking office when he was elected in 1946.

FOUND INNOCENT IN 'HOT HAM' CASE

By The Associated Press

LANCASTER, O., Dec. 8—Restaurant Operator Dale V. Landis, second of 12 "hot ham" case defendants to go on trial, was found innocent yesterday of buying and receiving stolen property.

He wept after a jury of 11 men and a woman returned its verdict deliberating only 21 minutes.

Landes, 20, operates a restaurant at the Fairfield Paper Co. in Basil, O. The state attempted to prove he knew two or three hams and 100 pounds of beef he bought had been stolen from Swift and Company's Columbus plant.

The youth denied he knowingly had purchased stolen meat.

South Korea To Ask Full UN Membership

By The Associated Press

SEOUL, Dec. 8 — President Syngman Rhee authorized the Republic of South Korea today to apply for full membership in the United Nations.

Foreign Minister Chang Taik Sang announced Rhee had messaged the chief of the Korean delegation at Paris—Dr. John Myun Chang—to seek membership.

$200 Loss Results From Fire in Jeep

A jeep used in the yards at the Marion Metal Products Co. caught fire on the company grounds at 12:53 a. m. this morning with a $200 loss, the fire department reports. Employes had just filled the jeep's gas tank and apparently some of the gasoline overflowed onto the hot motor and caught fire. Firemen from the Central fire station on South Prospect street answered the call.

ART SHIRES IN TROUBLE AGAIN

"The Great," Former Baseball Player, Boxer Charged with Murder.

By The United Press

DALLAS, Tex., Dec 8 — The turbulent baseball and boxing career of Art (The Great) Shires was climaxed today by a murder charge.

Shires, 42, colorful, swashbuckling big league ball player of the early thirties, faced a charge of "murder with malice" in the death of W. H. (Hi) Erwin, 56, former Texas league catcher and umpire.

The charge against Shires was a preliminary one filed on the basis of statements by seven witnesses to a fight between Shires and Erwin last Oct. 3. Shires was free on $5,000 bond pending a formal reading of the charge today, when it was believed new bond would be set.

Authorities indicated Shires would be held for a grand jury.

Shires, whose major league tour of duty included service with the Chicago White Sox, the Washington Senators, the St. Louis Cardinals and the Boston Braves, allegedly beat and kicked Erwin in a brawl in the latter's cleaning establishment.

Erwin died last Saturday night and was buried yesterday, but no death certificate had been signed. Dr. P. A. Rogers said Erwin came to him for medical attention after the Oct. 3 fight. He said pneumonia "developing out of injuries" contributed to Erwin's death.

But he said he refused to sign a death certificate because he could not determine the specific cause of death.

Shires, who runs a shrimp house here, told police he had known Erwin for 25 years. He said he went to Erwin's place of business to give him a steak, and that an argument developed. What it was about Shires did not say.

"He hit me across the face with a telephone receiver and I knocked him down without thinking," Shires said. "I had to rough him up a good deal because he grabbed a knife and started whittling on my legs."

Mother Dies in Crash, Two Children Injured

By The Associated Press

AMHERST, O., Dec. 8—An automobile crashed into a bridge culvert near here last night, killing a 27-year-old mother and critically injuring her two children.

The mother, Mrs. Norma Giedlinski of Birmingham, O., was dead on arrival at Amherst hospital. Her son, Joseph, 2, received a possible skull fracture. A daughter, Barbara, 6, had a compound fracture of the right leg and serious head injuries.

The husband and father, Joseph W. Giedlinski, 32, who was driving, was not hurt.

State highway patrolman Carl Rinto, who investigated the accident, said the crash occurred when another automobile, coming from the opposite direction, forced Giedlinski from the road.

Notice is hereby given that Ruth Burnett has been appointed and qualified as Administratrix of the estate of Hazel A. Darst, late of Marion County, deceased. Dated at Marion, Ohio, this 29th day of November, A. D. 1948.

EDWARD J. RUZZO, Probate Judge, Marion County, Ohio

Case No. 17856.

Dec.1,8,15,1948.

LEGAL NOTICE
BIDS FOR WATERWORKS IMPROVEMENT

Sealed proposals for the construction of a complete waterworks distribution system and appurtenances in the Village of Caledonia, Marion County, Ohio will be received by the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs, at the office of the Clerk of the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs, until 8:00 o'clock P. M. Eastern Standard Time, Thursday, January 6, 1949, and at that time and place will be publicly opened and read aloud.

The work is divided into three sections, as noted below, which sections MUST be bid upon separately, but it may be desired to make one contract for the entire project. However, should it be to the advantage of the Village, awards will be made on separate sections.

SECTION A—Construction of a complete water distribution system.

SECTION B—Elevated Steel storage tank and tower.

SECTION D—Meters (purchase only).

Proposals MUST be made on blanks accompanying the specifications and approved therefor Plans and specifications covering the proposed work are available for inspection at the office of the Village Clerk, and at the office of Paul W. Eldwell, 5005 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, consulting Engineer for the Village, and may be obtained by a payment of Ten dollars ($10.00) each for the combined set covering Sections A, B, and D; or Five dollars ($5.00) each for Sections B or D separately—none of which amounts will be refunded.

The character and amount of bid and performance bonds are stated in the "Information to Bidders."

The right is reserved by the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs to reject any and all bids and to waive informalities.

Delaware County Boy Injured in Accident

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, Dec. 8—Millard Fisher, 5, son of Mr and Mrs. Clyde Fisher of Cheshire, O., 10 miles southwest of Ashley, suffered cuts and bruises about his head yesterday in an accident at the home of his grandparents, Mr and Mrs. C. M. Fisher of Leonardsburg, four miles south of Ashley.

The child was riding in the back of a truck which was being used to move a building on the farm. He was riding at the back and looking down over the side when the truck suddenly backed against the building, pinning the child's head between the truck and building. He was taken to the home of his parents where he was treated by an Ashley physician.

EQUIPMENT ORDERED FOR DRIVING SCHOOL

Jr. C. of C. To Buy Devices for Harding Class.

The Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce has placed orders for the purchase of depth perception and reaction testing machines to be used by the driver training class at Harding High school, it was announced at a meeting of the Jaycees last night at Republican headquarters. The equipment is being purchased with funds derived from the recent Jaycee show "Fun for You."

Ted McArthur was named at last night's meeting to succeed George Schwab as a member of the Jaycee board of directors. Mr. Schwab recently resigned from the board.

Six new Jaycee members were introduced at the meeting. They are Loran Bailey, Dale Healea, William Grover, Lawrence Cochrel Charles Turner, and John De Vere.

It was announced last night the annual Jaycee Christmas party for all Jaycee members, their wives and girl friends, will be held at Republican headquarters the night of Dec. 17. Dancing will be a feature of the night's entertainment.

Plans were announced for local participation in the third annual Jaycee Mardi Gras tour to Mobile, Ala. and New Orleans, La., to start Feb. 24. Local persons interested in taking this tour are urged to contact any officer of the local Jaycee organization for information.

Twenty members attended last night's meeting.

REDS SEEK END OF KOREAN COMMISSION

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Dec 8—Soviet delegate Jacob A. Malik demanded today the United Nations' Korean commission be ended, terming it a "tool of American imperialism."

Malik said John Foster Dulles, acting chairman of the U.S. delegation, "wants to utilize the UN as a cloak for transforming southern Korea into a playground of capitalism and a springboard for imperialism."

The Russian delegate spoke throughout the morning session of the 58-nation political committee in support of a Soviet proposal to drop the Korean commission.

Case of Marion Co. Man Continued in Columbus

The case of Noel Brown, 20, of Route 2, Marion, charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident in Columbus Sunday night, was continued to Dec. 20 when he appeared in municipal court there yesterday morning.

Victim of the accident, A. J. Price, 75, of Columbus, died yesterday in a hospital there after being struck on West Goodale street Sunday night, Columbus sources reported today.

Poor Man's Gout

By Hal Boyle

Hal Boyle the hypochondriac who looks like a man fled his desk a week ago moaning "My foot! Oh-h my foot!" Today the following story arrived, typewritten on a torn pillow slip:

• • •

NEW YORK

LOOK at me. I'm an ex-rheumatoid.

No, not a parlor, bedroomatoid and bath. A real, honest-to-aspirin, fully repaired ex-rheumatoid. That's me.

Some days back I wrote a piece revealing for the first time the Boyle secret of staying healthy.

It was very simple. You just buddy up to all the office hypochondriacs — the people who imagined they have chronic ailments. Then you follow all their diets, and take all their capsules, pills, nose drops and nostrums.

Hal Boyle

Just borrow them. Any hypochondriac will share his last pill with you—if you'll just listen to his symptoms. And nobody ever asks you to return a used pill.

Well, for ten years this cheap, foolproof system worked perfectly. I knew sickness only through hearsay. Stuffed with scores of high-octane medicines, I was a strolling drugstore, protected against every disease known to man—from anemia to zymosis.

Or so I thought. Then I published my secret to the world—how to stay well by preying on hypochondriacs. And what happened?

• • •

TWO DAYS LATER I sprang out of bed and—"ow-w-w-w-ch!" my right foot was red, swollen and sensitive as an old maid at a wedding reception.

I hobbled into the office, and bird-dogged around to my favorite hypochondriacs. I held up my lame foot.

"Didn't twist," strain, bruise, or break it—or anything," I explained. "Just woke up this morning and there it was, pulsing like a turkey gobbler. What's wrong?"

And right there I lost my faith in these bathroom scientists. Listening to them is about as helpful as going walking in a revolving door to cure the hiccoughs.

"Just falling arches," diagnosed one. "Soak it in hot epsom salts."

"It's mental," said the office amateur psychiatrist. "You've got a delusion. Soak it in hot epsom salts."

"Looks to me like retroactive, post-war trench foot—or, in plain words, gold-bricking," sniped a third false friend. "Soak it in hot epsom salts."

But they all agreed my story was completely unlikely. And that the only thing to do was "soak it in epsom salts."

• • •

I HOT-FOOTED home to Frances, a limp at a time. And with that quick intuition that comes only to good women she said, "go see my doctor."

I did. He unveiled my throbbing foot. He squeezed it like a miser grabbing a $20 gold piece. When I climbed down from the chandelier, still tingling, I croaked hopefully:

"Tell me it's gout, doc. My family has been in America for only three generations. If I'm the first one to get the gout—what a success story!"

"Look what thinks it's got gout," jeered the doc. "You have to have enough money to eat well to get the gout.

"You've just got a rheumatoid infection. There's no use in my trying to explain what a rheumatoid infection is. Just tell your friends you got arthritis or rheumatoid. These infections usually settle in a joint."

"Lucky it didn't settle in my jaw," I mumbled.

"Would that be so bad for mankind?" murmured the doc, scratching out a prescription.

"Here, take these every four hours. Stay in bed for a week. Then you might soak the foot in epsom salts."

"What good'll that do?"

"Probably none," said the doctor cheerfully. "But it'll be a nice change for Frances to see you with only one foot in hot water."

• • •

WELL, THE WEEK'S over. I'm going to tell the boys at the office my ailment was "poor man's gout." Sounds better than rheumatoid infection. Might even give the boss the idea I am suffering from payday malnutrition.

And I know that within another week at least six phoney hypochondriacs will come limping in with "poor man's gout"—and say they caught it from me. When they come creeping and crawling up for my advice, I'll tell 'em:

"Soak your head in epsom salts clear down to your big toe—as hot as you can stand it."

Mrs. C. F. Myers Hostess To Grand Prairie Group

Mrs. C. F. Myers of north of Marion was hostess when the Missionary society of the Grand Prairie Baptist church met recently. Mrs Hilda Brooks was in charge of devotions and read the Christmas story from the Bible. For roll call the members name the first Christmas gift they remembered receiving. Mrs. Leota Lust gave a talk on gifts to be sent to foreign lands. Mrs Nellie Bibler was in charge of the program which included the singing of "Silent Night," by Mrs Albin, Mrs Lust, Mrs. Mary Rae and Mrs. Geneva Martin. Mrs Bibler gave a paper, "Keeping Christ in Christmas" and Mrs. Martin gave a talk on "Christmas in Hungary." "Christmas Overseas," was the topic presented by Mrs Virginia Foos. Refreshments were served and during the social hour secret missionary sisters were revealed and there was a gift exchange. The next meeting will be Jan 5 with Mrs. Mary Rae as hostess.

DELAY FINAL DECISION ON $313,000 DITCH PETITION

Special to The Star

KENTON — Final decision on the mammoth Hog Creek drainage project in northern Hardin county will not be announced by the county commissioners here until late December or early January, it was indicated today.

The project which extends some 40 miles and will cost an estimated $313,000, includes about eight miles of Hog creek itself and some 21 laterals. It last was improved in 1912.

LAD CLASS MEETS

Mrs. Bertha Line was hostess for the Christmas meeting of the LAD class of Oakland Evangelical United Brethren church Thursday night at her home on Westwood drive. Mrs. J. L. McCleary was in charge. Devotions were by Mrs. William Ferbrache, taken from the Christmas story in the second chapter of Luke. Prayers were by Mrs. John Bauman, Mrs. Merle Young and Mrs. Mamie Ritzler. Mrs. Delbert Born and Mrs. B. F. Cluff sang. Entertainment in charge of Mrs. M. Bishop and Mrs. Line included readings by members of the class and "Bargain Day Dollar Sale" described by Mrs. Ramna Parker. A gift exchange was held, and lunch was served by the committee.

Reports on Diocesan Youth Council Set

Reports of the second annual diocesan Youth Council meeting held at Columbus recently will be given at a meeting of St. Mary CYO Thursday night in Moira hall. At the meeting, held Nov. 27 and 28, Miss Joan Stuber of the local council was elected a member of the executive committee. Speaker for the meeting was Rev. John Cronin, S.S., of the faculty of the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C., who discussed the threat of communism in the present day. Bishop Michael J. Ready addressed the final session of the convention held at St. Mary of the Springs college.

He visited the U. S. in 1914.

Upper Sandusky Council To Act on Traffic Meters

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Dec. 8—Residents of Upper Sandusky appeared elated to receive parking meters for Christmas as plans were made today to bring up the proposed ordinance for its third and final reading at the meeting of council in city hall on Monday, Dec. 20.

The ordinance was given a second reading this week. Discussion of the type of meter to be used and the exact location of their installation has been postponed pending the vote on the basic ordinance, probably at the next session of council.

Plan Youth for Christ Movement at Bucyrus

BUCYRUS—Organization of a Bucyrus Youth for Christ movement with Miss Joanne Beal and Miss Marjorie Yaussy as temporary chairmen was announced here today by Rev. James H. Thomas, pastor of First Baptist church.

Each church in the city is being asked to name two representatives to the movement, preferably a high school student and a high school graduate.

Plans will be made for the group's initial rally at a meeting to be held next Saturday at Epworth Methodist church here.

GALION ROTARY HEARS SAFETY PATROL TALK

Students Praised for Protecting Classmates.

Special to The Star

GALION—A School Safety Patrol program was presented members of the Galion Rotary club Monday night, at Hotel Talbott.

"In Galion, the School Safety Patrol program was started 18 years ago under the auspices of the Galion Automobile club City Patrolman Morris Bowers told the group when he appeared as speaker.

Now the patrol in Galion has some 150 boys and girls as members, Bowers said. He told the club that the School Patrol is well thought of in the city and state, and that its popularity is growing each year. The Galion Automobile club furnishes all equipment used by these safety patrols now functioning in all Galion city and parochial schools, the patrolman said.

"Boys and girls of the safety patrol," Bowers said, "have a sense of responsibility toward their work." "At the end of each school year, school safety patrol members are given certificate of awards and badges by the automobile club. Each year they are guests of the automobile club at a picture show, and once a year the boys and girls are banqueted by the club as reward for their efforts in safeguarding the lives of their schoolmates," Bowers explained. He added that the safety patrol members are admitted free to all football and basketball games.

Bowers was preceded on the program by Harold Garverick, captain of the East School Safety Patrol and a member of the sixth grade. Grace Thomas, secretary of the Galion Automobile club, who organized the School Safety Patrol in Galion and has kept it going for the past 18 years, also was a guest of the club. The program concluded with the showing of a talking picture, "Driven to Kill," sent to Galion by the Cleveland Automobile club.

Marion Men in Crew of New Ship

OHIOANS SERVE ABOARD NEW U. S. CRUISER

Four Marion men and a Crestline man, serving aboard the Navy's newest light cruiser, the USS Worchester, on a shakedown cruise in the Caribbean, were photographed recently with a group of Ohio men and officers serving on the ship on the occasion of a visit to the ship while at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, of an Ohio congressman.

Congressman Walter B. Huber of Akron, Democrat, Fourteenth congressional district, who visited the ship appears in the front row standing sixth from left. Congressman Huber lunched aboard the cruiser as a guest of Capt. T. B. Dugan, USN, who commands the ship, and inspected the new ship and visited with the crew.

Seaman Crabtree, son of Chester Crabtree of 318 Davids street, enlisted in the Navy June 29, 1946. Before coming to reside in Marion several years ago, he made his home in Oak Hill, O. Prior to enlisting in the Navy, he was employed with the Erie railroad. Seaman Crabtree has a brother, Wayne, also serving with the Navy.

Brothers on Ship

The two Cook boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cook of 841 Sugar street. Eugene, the older of the two boys, has been in the service nearly a year, having enlisted Jan. 5, 1948, while Robert has been in only since June 10. Both enlisted for three years. After taking his basic training, Robert requested that he be assigned to the same ship as his brother and he was sent to Philadelphia. They were stationed at Philadelphia for a short time while the ship was being prepared for the cruise. They left there in the middle of September on the three-month cruise, the first long cruise for either youth. According to word received by Mrs. Cook, they are expected to be back in Philadelphia about Dec. 15.

Eugene is married and his wife resides with her parents in Philadelphia. Before entering service, he was employed at the Marion Power Shovel Co. plant. He is expected to be home for Christmas. Both boys attended Harding High school.

Seaman Peak served with the U. S. Navy three years during World War II, was discharged in 1944, and then re-enlisted about a year ago for three years. During the time he was out of the service, he was employed at the Marion Engineer Depot. He is married and his wife and one and one-half-year-old daughter, Kay Ann, reside with her parents in Meeker. His father, George Peak, also resides in Meeker. Seaman Peak is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Peak of 931 North Main street.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

President Truman is expected to speak to the nation at Christmas time . . . . He hasn't been heard since that famous speech in which he said "I thank you."

• • •

But this should be a good Christmas for us . . . Practically everyone is working except Republican candidates.

• • •

And they have only to prove that they have been unemployed for 16 years to get relief.

• • •

On the whole times never were better . . . Elliott Roosevelt is doing a nice business in Christmas trees and memoirs, Margaret Truman has an offer from the Italian opera, Harry is working . . . It's wonderful!

• • •

There is even a report that one of Chiang's generals has found a job here as a night club waiter . . . Some say he's studying offensive tactics.

• • •

Any general who trained on a nightclub battlefield could go back and take Suchow single-handed.

GALION POWER ISSUES AIRED

Referendum Required by Law, Mayor Informs City Council.

Special to The Star

GALION, Dec. 8 —Several legal ... now being aired in Galion ... power problems ... new developments Tuesday.

City ... was presented a referendum ... Mayor H. H. Hartmann. The petition bore signatures of more than 10 per cent of ... of the city of Galion ... in November, it was ... that a vote be taken on the power franchise ordinance recently passed over the mayor's veto. The ordinance permits the Ohio Public Service Company to sell electric power to the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing company and to the Central Ohio Steel Products company.

The referendum petition was referred by motion of council, to the rules and ordinances committee.

In addition, Mayor Hartmann indicated provisions of state law clearly make it a duty and obligation of the city council of Galion to enact a proper ordinance providing for the question to be submitted to the electorate of the city at a special election to be held not sooner than 60 days from the passage of said ordinance, and not later than 120 days from the passage.

Council also received formal communication from the Ohio Public Service Company, at the Tuesday night meeting accepting the franchise ordinance passed Nov 4. It was referred to the laws and ordinances committee of council.

It was learned that a motion to dismiss the temporary injunction against the Ohio Public Service company and the City of Galion, was filed in Crawford county common pleas court Tuesday afternoon by the power company.

Motion for dismissal contends that the referendum petition filed last week by John P Drouth, Galion taxpayer, was not filed within the legal period of 30 days after passage of the ordinance. It contends further that the city is not acquiring a public utility but only granting an easement to the OPS.

The injunction case is scheduled for hearing before Judge C U Ahl, Dec. 27.

A temporary restraining order blocking the OPS and city from carrying out provisions of the power ordinance is now in effect pending the hearing on the injunction request.

The franchise ordinance originally was passed by council Oct. 5, and left unsigned by the mayor. On Nov. 4, it was passed over his veto.

Marion Man Kin of Oldest Twins

Hayes H Cooper of 518 East Church street believes he may have a strong chance to live to a ripe old age, and if heredity is any criterion who's to argue with him.

Mr Cooper is one of eight children, all living, sons and daughters of Mrs. Margaret Wilson Cooper, 88, of Forest, sister half of the oldest pair of twins in Hardin county, and possibly northwestern Ohio. They are shown in the accompanying photographs, taken 80 years apart.

Mrs. Cooper and her twin brother Alva Wilson, of Forest, celebrated their eighty-eighth birthdays together on October 20, are both in good health, and plan to celebrate even more birthdays together.

The twin brother and sister were born in 1860 in a log cabin on the Blanchard river near Forest to Mr and Mrs. John Wilson, pioneer residents of the Forest area.

IN 1868

IN 1948

Mrs. Cooper is now living with a daughter, Mrs J H. Hartman, south of Forest since the death of her husband John W Cooper, in 1943. Beside Mrs. Hartman and Hayes Cooper of Marion, Mrs. Cooper has six other children: Alva, Clarence, Mrs. Lloyd Oates, and Mrs. Marie Lehman, all of Forest; Mrs. Charles Martin, Warsaw, Ind; and Mrs. Earl Stevenson of Galion.

Mrs. Cooper's twin brother, Alva Wilson, with Mrs. Wilson has resided in Forest for the last five years since moving from his farm. The Wilsons are the parents of three children: Mrs. Bertha Farison of Forest, and Mrs. Ralph Chester and Mrs. Ray Clark, both of Toledo.

VETERANS

fered in action in France on Aug. 27 of the same year. He had been wounded twice in slightly more than two months' time, and had been back in action less than a month between the times he was wounded.

He entered service March 22, 1943, and was sent overseas March 21, 1944. He received basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. He attended Edison Junior High school and was employed at the American Malleable Casting Co. here before entering service.

Surviving besides his father is a brother, Tony Galati of Mound street.

The body is to be brought to the L. A. Axe and Son funreal home and burial will be in Marion cemetery.

Killed in France

Pfc. Ruhl is a son of Mrs. Edith Spitzer and stepson of W. A. Spitzer of 174 Carhart street. He was killed in action in France June 25, 1944, after being in the service only about eight months. He had gone overseas as an infantryman in February.

A native of Marion, he was graduated from Harding High school and resided in Washington, C. H., prior to entering service.

Surviving besides his mother and-stepfather are six brothers, Phillip of Tucson, Ariz., Herman of 760 Windsor street, Kenneth of 565 North State street, Henry of Veterans Housing Unit, Fred of 174 Carhart street, and Vincent of Mansfield, two sisters, Mrs. Donna Porter of near Green Camp, and Miss Phyllis Ruhl, of 174 Carhart street, three step-sisters and two step-brothers.

The body will be brought to the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue and burial will be made in Marion cemetery.

Killed in England

Capt. Ferguson was the husband of Mrs. Jean A. Ferguson, now of Dayton, O., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Andrews of 857 South Prospect street. Capt. Ferguson, whose home was in West Point, Ga., was killed in action in England April 5, 1944. He was operations officer and acting squadron commander of a Thunderbolt fighter-bomber unit based in England. Capt. Ferguson was graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., in June 1942, then entered training for the air force.

Surviving besides his wife are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Ferguson of West Point, Ga., two sisters and two brothers. Mrs. Ferguson, who served with the Red Cross overseas during the war, is now assistant field director with the Red Cross at the veterans hospital in Dayton. She has held this position since the spring of 1947.

Capt. Ferguson is to be buried in the Arlington National cemetery.

SPIES

taken from Chambers in the form of copies or films came from an office in which Hiss worked. That was the office of Francis B. Sayre, then assistant secretary of state.

Of Utmost Secret Value

Peurifoy said there is no doubt that the documents the committee got from Chambers are copies of some the state department regarded as among its most secret papers. He said people who handled the originals probably initialed them, and he is going to check that. So far as he knows, he said, none of the originals are missing.

Through the committee, Peurifoy put out a statement saying that what bothers him most about the whole affair is not the Hiss-Chambers dispute but "the fact that those documents were taken out of the state department in 1937 or 1938 and to me that means that our codes were being read by foreign nations during the whole period."

(The committee several months ago heard testimony from Adm. W. H. Standley, wartime ambassador to Russia, that the late President Roosevelt feared the state department's code was insecure.

(Standley said Roosevelt occasionally used the Navy code to send messages to him while he was in Moscow during 1942 and 1943. The retired admiral said he felt confident the navy code never was broken.)

Interesting Possibilities

Rept. Mundt (R-SD), acting committee chairman, told newsmen he figures that if the Russians broke the code they may have passed it on to the Germans before those two countries went to war. Germany, in turn, may have sent the secret on to the Japanese, Mundt said. Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) reasoned along similar lines.

Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state in 1937 and 1938, testified to the committee yesterday that possession of documents Chambers had, along with the originals in code, would have permitted the code to be deciphered.

Ohio Democrats Pick Legislature Leaders

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 8 — Ohio's senate will have its first woman majority leader in the session starting Jan. 3 and the house of representatives will have a speaker who now heads the minority there.

This was decided at senate and house caucuses of Democratic members who won control of the 98th general assembly from Republicans in November elections.

Senate Democrats in a closed meeting yesterday picked Miss Margaret A. Mahoney (pronounced Mae-O-Nee) with the accent on Mae), Cleveland attorney, as president pro tem. That's the original title for majority floor leader.

She will be the first woman ever to hold that honor in the Ohio senate. She studied law nights to become an attorney, served two terms in the house (1939-42) and has been a senator since 1943. As majority leader, she will be chairman of the all-important senate rules committee.

Cantwell New Speaker

The new house speaker will be John F. Cantwell, 62, of Youngstown, present minority floor leader of that body. He will be starting his fifth consecutive term in the house.

Indications were that the administration of Gov-elect Frank J. Lausche took an active interest in caucus selections

The senate caucus was delayed an hour while leaders conferred with Eugene Hanhart of Dover, Lausche's Democratic state chairman.

Just before it started, Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum of Cleveland withdrew as a candidate in favor of Miss Mahoney

Cantwell was opposed for the speakership by Rep. James M. Carney of Cleveland, who told the caucus:

"An effort has been made by people in the administration to solicit your support for a worthy opponent. I know certain commitments were asked of you in the past two days."

Carney said he conferred with Lausche and Hanhart before announcing for speaker and that Hanhart "gave me his word he would not interfere"

Cantwell defeated Carney, 42 to 24 Carney then moved to make it unanimous.

The senate caucus also named Dwight L. Matchette of Greenville as senate clerk.

Senate Democrats also picked a committee on committees but put off patronage until a caucus later this month Committee members include Emmett R. Guthrie of Coshocton.

All 19 Democratic senators-elect attended the meeting. Republicans, who outnumber Democrats 32 to 4 in the current senate, will have only 14 members in the new senate

In the house, Democrats will outnumber Republicans 69 to 66

House members also designated Rep. A. G Lancione, 41, of Belmont county as majority floor leader, and Delbert Nixon, former Jefferson county representative as house clerk.

Gen. "Ike" Says War Rated American As "Formidable Soldier"

28. What We Learned.

IN THE summer of 1945, although our main effort was redeployment of troops, establishment of occupation, and execution of many minor tasks directly connected with our mission, we were also occupied in a professional sequel to the war—the study and evaluation of its lessons.

The material confronting us was monumental in its bulk, and in its content unique. The campaigns in the Mediterranean and in Europe had no prior parallel in the history of warfare; throughout them, the United States Army had engaged in operations without comparable precedent since its establishment in 1775.

For the operations in Africa and Europe there had been involved the organization of a vast ground force. Built around forty-seven infantry divisions and their artillery, it included sixteen armored divisions and four airborne divisions, a mountain division, four seaborne brigades for the operation of landing craft, besides amphibious and combat engineer units, brigade, and separate battalions of anti-aircraft units, field artillery and tank destroyer battalions by the score. Equally stupendous was the growth of American air strength in those two theaters; between our entry into the war and the German surrender our fighter planes had won superiority over the Luftwaffe and our bombers had penetrated every defense which the German had raised against them.

In all the campaigns, and particularly in western Europe, our guiding principle was to avoid at any cost the freezing of battle lines that might bog down our troops in a pattern similar to the trench warfare of World War I. At times in the conduct of any continental campaign there develops a strain upon supply lines that largely prohibits the continuance of heavy, decisive attacks; during such periods a certain degree of stabilization is unavoidable. But the Allied forces did not permit these periods of stabilization to develop into the long, dreary, and wasteful battles that bled Europe white in World War I.

* * *

IN ADDITION to amphibious assault on an unprecedented scale, our forces had surmounted natural and fortified barriers that were believed invulnerable. In Africa, Sicily, and Italy the terrain we encountered was fitted by nature for defensive operations. In the Tunisian hills, on the shoulder of Mount Etna, and in the Apennines there were scores of vital points where a battalion could stop an army's advance.

In western Europe the Rhine throughout its length, reinforced on the north by the easily inundated Netherlands, had been for twenty centuries the most formidable barrier to military operations against the German lands. All those natural obstacles were overcome.

Beyond that in western Europe the Allied armies twice battered their way through fortifications that had been designed with the greatest tactical and engineering skill. To break through either the Westwall or the Siegfried Line was outstanding in military annals; to smash them both in the space of ten months was a matchless achievement for the participating troops.

It is easy to deprecate the value of fixed defenses and fortifications. The Chinese Wall, the Roman Wall, and the Maginot Line all failed, eventually, in their defensive purposes. However, on any given section of front, any unit that is on the defensive and has the advantage of carefully prepared defenses enjoys a tremendous superiority over its exposed opponents.

* * *

The Allied force that stood on the Elbe on May 8, 1945, was the most powerful military machine ever assembled. Its left flank rested on the Baltic Sea and its right in the Alps. Behind it were armadas of planes whose numbers were greater than all the air forces of the world a few years before. Its line of supply and communications was a vast network that covered France and the United Kingdom and extended into every community of the homelands.

Its strength was supported by still another victorious host. To the south, pouring through the Alpine passes that had been the traditional avenues of classic warfare, were the million veterans of the Italian campaign under Alexander, backed also by immense air power and sea power and trans-oceanic supply lines. When these two forces came to a halt with the German surrender, their combined might was overwhelming evidence of democracy's might—a visible lesson of war.

Victory in the Mediterranean and European campaigns gave the lie to all who preached, or in our time shall preach, that the democracies are decadent, afraid to fight, unable to match the productivity of regimented economies, unwilling to sacrifice in a common cause.

The first and most enduring lesson of the Mediterranean and European campaigns was the proof that war can be waged effectively by a coalition of nations. Historic difficulties had been overcome and the grave doubts that had existed on this point even as late as the fall of 1942 had been completely dispelled. Governments and their subsidiary economic, political, and military organizations had combined into one great effort in which no major difficulty could be traced to diverging national interest.

Allied effectiveness in World War II established for all time the feasibility of developing and employing joint control machinery that can meet the sternest tests of war. The key to the matter is a readiness, on highest levels, to adjust all nationalistic differences that affect the strategic employment of combined resources, and, in the war theater, to designate a single commander who is supported to the limit.

* * *

IN WORLD WAR II, America and Great Britain, whose forces fought side by side in so many battles of the ground, sea and air, understood and applied these truths. In the later stages of the war French forces likewise participated in this joint effort, as did detachments of numerous countries whose home-lands had been previously overrun by the enemy.

Co-operation with the Soviet forces was, unhappily, not so close. But her forces were widely separated, geographically, from those of the Western Allies, and the flaw in over-all teamwork did not impair the march to victory. Even so, if that country could have been as closely knit into the team as were the others, victory would probably have been achieved earlier and the peace would have rested on a more secure foundation.

Foremost among the military lessons was the extraordinary and growing influence of the airplane in the waging of war. The European campaign almost daily developed new and valuable uses for air power. Its effect in the weakening of German capacity was decisively felt on both fronts, the Allied and the Russian.

Beyond this, the airplane was a valuable logistics agent, particularly during our speedy dashes across France in the fall of 1944 and across Germany in the spring of 1945; without it these pursuits could never have proceeded with such speed nor could they have accomplished such remarkable results.

The combination of an overwhelming air force and the great mobility provided by the vehicular equipment of the Army enabled us to strike at any chosen point along a front of hundreds of miles. Our flexibility was nowhere better illustrated than during the German counteroffensive in the Ardennes when Patton's army ceased its preparations for an eastward attack, changed front, and undertook a movement extending over sixty to seventy miles at right angles to its former direction of advance. In less than seventy-two hours from the time Patton's staff had its orders an entire corps of his army had initiated a new attack.

* * *

IN DOZENS of ways scientists and inventors transformed the face of war. In landing on beaches we had the great advantage of new types of naval equipment and even tanks that could swim ashore after being launched into the water many hundreds of yards from the beach. Before the end of the war we were employing in great numbers recoilless weapons of very light weight that delivered projectiles of tremendous force.

While we studied the effect on the conduct of war of new vehicles, new weapons, new systems of transport and communications, at the same time we re-examined the role of the fundamental agent in military success—the individual soldier.

The trained American possesses qualities that are almost unique. Because of his initiative and resourcefulness, his adaptability to change and his readiness to resort to expedient, he becomes, when he has attained a proficiency in all the normal techniques of battle, a most formidable soldier. Yet even he has his limits; the preservation of his individual and collective strength is one of the greatest responsibilities of leadership.

The effect of prolonged combat is always bad. If a unit is brought out of line before the processes of physical and mental fatigue have gone too far and before its losses have become excessive it can, with the assimilation of new recruits, be ready for re-entry into battle far sooner than one that has been kept in line too long. Moreover, the periodic rests for the front-line soldier have a splendid effect upon morale—and in any kind of warfare troop morale is always a decisive factor.

* * *

EARLY in the North African campaign it became evident that the emotional stamina and spiritual strength of the individual soldier were as important in battle success as his weapons and training. Combat neuroses among the troops developed on an alarming scale as the intensity of our offensives increased.

At the war's beginning the average Army officer, both regular and civilian, placed too much faith in a surface discipline based solely upon perfection in the mechanics of training. Commanders are habitually diffident where they are called upon to deal with subjects that touch the human soul — aspirations, ideals, inner beliefs, affection, hatreds.

A profound understanding of philosophy is not necessarily a part of the equipment of a successful military leader. Yet as certainly as a national army neglects the need for a simple, commonly held understanding of the nation's welfare and the individual's relationship to the whole, so certainly will victory be attained only at added cost and by so much will victory itself be jeopardized.

In the summer of 1945, General Eisenhower went to Moscow as the guest of Generalissimo Stalin, and with Marshal Zhukov as his guide. He was the first foreigner—non-Communist—ever to review a parade through Red Square by Stalin's side standing on the top of Lenin's tomb. He was dined in the Kremlin, shown the Red Army's most secret map room, told frankly that there was nothing in Russia he could not see if he wanted to.

His own story of this remarkable trip, and of his private conversations with Stalin, will be told here tomorrow in the next installment of his "Crusade in Europe."

Mrs. Saiter Hostess To Mesher Society

Mrs. John Saiter was hostess for a meeting of the Mesher WSCS Thursday at her home south of Mesher. A potluck dinner was served at noon.

Mrs. Ralph Sappington, president, presided for the meeting during which reports of a recent bake sale and rummage sale were given. A special offering was taken with which to purchase equipment for the new church kitchen. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Ernest Wiley and 21 members responded to roll call. Guests included Lucile Sappington, Glen Rhoads and Brent Saiter. The time was spent sewing rug rags. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Emerson Owen of northeast of Mesher.

Would You USE a Screen To Collect Dust?

Rexair

Of course you wouldn't collect dust in a screen. If you did, fine dust would filter through the holes of the screen, back into the air and onto the surfaces you had just cleaned.

Using a bag or filter to collect dust is like gathering dust in a screen. The bag must be porous to let the air escape. When the air escapes, dust escapes with it. You actually take dust from the floor and throw it into the air you breathe!

Rexair, the new home appliance, solves this problem by collecting dust in water instead of a bag. Rexair takes dust wherever it is found—on rugs, bare floors, upholstery, furniture, drapes—and traps it in a water bath. Rexair even takes dust from the air you breathe.

Wet dust cannot fly, and dust cannot escape from Rexair's water basin. You simply pour the water down the drain, and dirt goes with it—out of your house forever.

The New Governors

McMath Rises Rapidly In Arkansas Politics

(One of a series of 22 articles on new governors chosen in the November election.)

• • •

By The Associated Press

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 8—A handsome young war hero will take over the reins of Arkansas government next January.

He's Sidney Sanders McMath, 36. (He prefers plain Sid McMath, and that's the way he signs his name.)

McMath, a Democrat, is a "Johnny-come-quickly" in Arkansas politics. Two and one-half years ago he virtually was unknown. Back from the war, he headed a GI group which defeated the political organization of former Hot Springs Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin in Hot Springs and Garlan county.

In the shuffle McMath was elected prosecuting attorney. He swung quickly into action against gambling. McLaughlin was indicted on 16 counts charging malfeasance in office. The former mayor was tried on two counts, being acquitted once and the other trial resulting in a mistrial when the jury could not reach a verdict. The other charges were dismissed at the request of McMath.

As a combat Marine, McMath rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel and won the silver star for bravery in the Pacific.

A native of Columbia county, in south Arkansas, McMath worked his way through the university of Arkansas. His campus activities included dramatics and boxing. He is a Methodist and a member of three veterans organizations — American Legion, Amvets and Veterans of Foreign Wars. His hobbies are horses and hound dogs.

McMath has been married twice. His first wife died while he was in military service. He has a son by each wife.

He seldom prepares his addresses in advance, preferring to speak "from the cuff." Even when he does prepare texts or abstracts of his speeches, he more than likely will depart from them—to the despair of newsmen and his staff.

Shortly before the November election, McMath appeared at a hometown benefit show as "ring master." Later he disclosed that it was a marital "compromise." He wanted to attend the American Legion convention in Miami, Fla. Mrs. McMath said "okay" if McMath would help her by serving as "ring-master."

BOWLING

The Independent league seemed to furnish all the stars in bowling here Friday night. Herriott topped the league with single games of 247 and 208, and had a three-game total of 632. Other high scores in this loop were Spurlock 224, R. Gast 223, McKeever 221, McArthur 219, R. Clark 212, Feichter 210, Biggerstaff 207, H. Clark 204, Ulsh 201, and Nicolosi 201. Weis bowled games in the Commercial league of 233 and 231, and he was high for the three-game series with 602. Maag turned in a 220, Hoffman 214, Lewis 214, Stephenson 206, Turner 204, Thibaut 201, and Thorpe, Winters, and Redding each had 200. In the Industrial league Dickerson led in single games with 234 and Shoemaker led for the series with 586, bowling a single game of 215. Phillips topped both departments in the Mercantile loop with 214 and 548. Chard rolled 210 and Hostetter 202 for this league. Long led for the series in the City league with a score of 532.

UPS FREMONT REWARD

By The Associated Press

FREMONT, O., Dec. 8—The reward for capture of Arthur Benner Jr., of Detroit, charged with the murder of a local patrolman, has been raised to $800. Tony Szymanowski, a bakery owner, added $300 to the $500 offered last week by city council. Benner is charged with killing patrolman George Biggs on Nov. 3, by swerving a stolen car into a crash as Biggs stood on the running board.

VETO CITY INCOME TAX

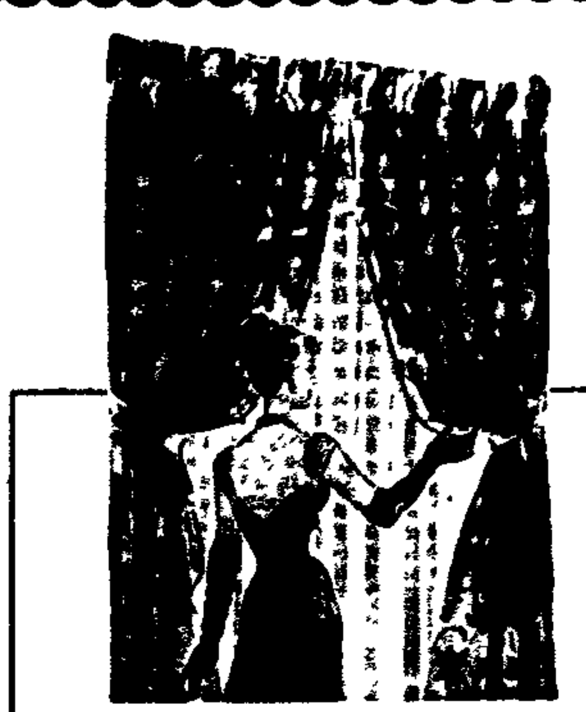

By The Associated Press

ASHTABULA, O., Dec. 8—City council has voted unanimously against a city income tax of one per cent, at a second reading of the proposed measure. The local Chamber of Commerce proposed that permanent improvements needed by the city be financed by a bond issue for each class of expenditure.

RICHWOOD MAN IN COURT HERE TODAY

Faces Forged Check Charge Before Judge.

Dale Siemmons, 29, of Richwood, appeared in common pleas court today for trial under an indictment for possessing and uttering a forged check.

Judge Smith is hearing the case without jury, waived by the defendant's attorneys Moore and Myers.

Siemmons was indicted by the fall grand jury after being charged with tendering the check at Young's service station on North Main street here May 20.

He pleaded not guilty to the indictment and was sent to Lima for mental observation where he was found, in the opinion of physicians there, accountable for his actions. His defense is that he had been suffering acute alcoholism at the time of the alleged check passing incident.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Finish Did Not Dry

Q.: Some time ago I refinished the top of my dining table. It had several coats of varnish, wax, etc., and when all of this was removed I found the grain of the wood was beautiful. I put a good quick-drying varnish over it, but this never has been satisfactory. Cloth of any kind sticks to it, and a dish of any sort placed on it will leave a mark. I suppose I will have to go through the refinishing process again, but am unwilling to try varnish. Please tell me what to do.

A.: A poor grade of varnish might have caused the trouble, but I am inclined to think that you neglected to clean off the varnish remover that you used for taking off the old varnish, before putting on the new. The usual type of varnish remover should be well cleaned off with turpentine or benzine after scraping off the old finish. (Or else use the special cleaning preparation provided by the manufacturer of the remover.) Before removing the present finish, try going over the table with turpentine. This should take out the stickiness, although it will dull the finish to some extent. You then can brush on another coat of a good quality, quick-drying varnish. Another method of finishing a dining table to make it heat and moisture-resistant is by the application of linseed oil. The method is slow and tedious, but the results should be excellent.

• • •

Musty Smell in Cabinet

Q.: The drawers of my linen cabinet have a musty smell that is very disagreeable. I have put moth balls in to take the odor away, but it is still musty smelling. What do you advise me to do?

A.: Pull out the drawers and place them out in the sun, wiping them out well, using denatured alcohol. It is possible that when you put your linen away you did not see that it was thoroughly dry before placing in the drawers. I advise you to go over every piece, and look out for mildew. If there is any dampness, hang the pieces where they can dry out. When you replace the drawers, spray well with a mildew-proofing preparation (also deodorizes), which is on sale in many stores where housewares are sold (in the larger towns and cities). For the name inquire of the Architects Samples Exhibit, 101 Park Avenue, New York 17. Please do not ask me for it.

• • •

Sticky Paint

Q.: What can I use on paint which remains sticky several days after application?

A.: Sometimes paint can be hardened by sponging it with ice cold water. The usual remedy is to go over it with turpentine. This, however, will dull the gloss of enamel. If it does, apply another coat of top-quality enamel.

Whitney Lodge Hosts, Plans Christmas Party

One application for membership was read and accepted at a meeting of Whitney Lodge No. 846, Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Thursday night in the Legion Dugout. An announcement was made that reservations are to be made for the Christmas dinner party to be held Dec. 21 at the Plaid room of the Snyder Hotel. A gift exchange will be held at this party.

Mrs. Goldie Sellers, president, appointed a new monthly social committee, composed of Mrs. Ethel Somerlot, Mrs. Helen Ruff, Mrs. Elva Showalter, Mrs. Betty Smith and Mrs. Margaret Steele. Plans were made to send baskets of fruit or gifts to shut-in members of the lodge for Christmas. A social hour followed, during which members of the losing team in a recent membership contest entertained members of the winning team.

FINDS DAUGHTER. Reunited after 31 years, Joseph Miceli and daughter Mary Bowermaster of Toledo, find plenty to talk about in New York. Miceli was drafted in World War I and left Mary, whose mother and twin brother were dead, in care of Mary's grandmother. But grandmother found it necessary to offer the child for adoption. When Miceli got back he began a long search for her that ended when the New York Foundling hospital turned up a clue which led to her in Toledo. Miceli is a cigar store proprietor.

Carl O. Jordan New Kadgar Grotto Monarch

Carl O. Jordan was elected monarch at a meeting of Kadgar Grotto Monday night at the Masonic temple. Elected with him were the following: Melvin H. Winters, chief justice; Bernard L. McGraner, master of ceremonies; Clifford B. Welch, secretary; Lorin L. Lawrence, treasurer; Raymond Beaty, venerable prophet; Wilbur C. Morehouse, trustee for three years. Edwin K. Smith was named a trustee for one year to fill a vacancy made by the resignation of Carl Lemmitter who moved out of the city.

Plans were completed for entertaining the children of the Marion County children's home Dec. 23 at the temple.

The newly-elected officers will be installed at the annual meeting Jan. 3, with W. Don Davis and John E. Davis, past monarchs.

Harding Nips Galion; St. Mary Falls to Morral

Presidents Rally To Take Thriller, 53-49

By GORDON SCOTT

A fighting Harding basketball squad that at one time trailed by 10 points thrilled Marion cage fans who packed Edison gym last night by sinking three buckets in the final minute of play to down Galion, 53-49, and win their home debut.

The Prexies fought with their backs to the wall all through the contest and few, if any, of the crowd thought the Marion men could win after the Tigers had racked up a comfortable lead in the first quarter. It wasn't until the last of the fourth quarter that the real drama unfolded.

Every production must have its hero and in this case it was a reserve player in his first varsity game, John Zimmerman. With the Prexies trailing by nine points Dick Leffler and Bill Buckingham each swished one but Dick Dye countered for Galion. Three minutes were left when Jack Daum and Don Johnson found the hoop to make it 49-43. Then Zimmerman, who had just entered the contest, dropped a field goal and a free shot but again the troublesome Dye retaliated.

Ties It Up

Jack Daum sunk a free throw and bedlam broke loose when Buckingham tied it up. With 40 seconds left in the game Zimmerman calmly dribbled in and dropped a bucket to put Harding ahead for the first time since the first minute of the game. Wildly cheering fans were on their feet screaming. The referee had to come over to the scorer's table to be heard above the roar when he wanted to call time. Jack Daum pushed in another goal as the game ended and still the noise shook the small Edison gym.

Bill Buckingham, who sunk the tieing basket, led the Prexies' scoring with four buckets and six free ones for a total of 14 points. Only a point behind was big Jack Daum, sophomore center, with four baskets and five free throws. Dick Dye, who gave the Harding men a hard time all evening, was the night's high man with six field goals and seven free tosses for a total of 19.

A strange feature of the contest was that Harding sunk 19 field goals and 15 free throws while the Tigers dropped 25 field goals and 19 free ones, merely a switch in columns. It was a tough game for the Galion men to lose after leading almost all the way. They had a nice passing attack that enabled them to move in under the basket from where they sunk 36 per cent of their tallies.

Opens Scoring

Little Dick Webb opened the game's scoring by pushing one in from underneath after grabbing a pass from Dick Thomas. Jack Daum then dunked a free one but Bob Fink, tall Galion center, and Ray Seif each hit the hoop for three points to snatch the lead away from the Prexies until that last hectic minute of play. Only once did Harding come close to tieing it up. Midway in the second quarter Clark made it 21-18 and after Dick Dye had swished a free throw Dick Thomas dropped in another bucket to bring the Harding men within two points, 23-20. Galion bounced back, however, and at the quarter's end led, 26-21.

Harding's reserves breezed to a 37-18 victory with little effort. George Keel's men put the contest on ice by scoring 11 points to Galion's one in the second period. The game's high scorer was none other than John Zimmerman. He tossed two buckets and four free throws for a total of eight.

House of David Cagers To Meet Middies Sunday

The world famous House of David basketball team will be in Marion Sunday to play the Mid-Town Chevrolets at 2 p. m. on the Marion Armory floor. Mixing in comedy with their cage play, the Davids have met 1,972 teams from coast to coast and have lost to only 76.

Annually the House of David team tours the United States, Canada, and Mexico and averages over 200 contests a season. The bearded cagers hail from a sect located at the City of David near Benton Harbor, Mich. The sect was founded by King Ben Purnell and is now controlled by his wife, Queen Mary Purnell. All the male members wear long beards and the women long hair.

The fun-loving Davids boast of the game's tallest player. He is Moose Ludka who stands seven feet, three inches and weighs 265 pounds. Last year it was the Moose who beat the local squad by literally dropping them in. Tony Hecht, a guard, is six feet, six inches and two other members of the squad stand six-three.

Their manager - coach, Ham Hamilton, holds the world's record for the most complete consecutive games played in basketball. Over a space of ten years he played 1,743 games and was never out of a contest for a rest. The Davids specialize in comedy basketball. Probably their best trick is the hidden ball stunt in which the bearded ones gather in a huddle and the basketball disappears.

Tickets for the contest cost $1.

Green Camp Falls To Marseilles, 46-41

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP, Dec. 7—Green Camp lost a hard-fought basketball game here Tuesday night to the fast-breaking and accurate passing Marseilles five, 46-41.

The visitors sewed up the game in the second period when they connected for 14 points to the locals 4. The Panthers were fast closing the margin after Snavely went out via the foul route scoring 16 points in the final period to the visitors 4.

Snavely was high scorer for the evening with 18 points. Weston had 15 for the Panthers. The Panthers will meet Prospect Friday night on the Prospect floor in a Marion county league game.

In the reserve game Marseilles was also victorious, 28-15.

CHICAGO IN FRENZY OVER CARD-BEAR GO

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 8—Not since Red Grange turned pro in his heyday of the roaring 20's has professional football in Chicago reached such frenzied heights as it has for the Cardinals-Bears battle in Wrigley Field Sunday.

The cross-town rivals, each with 10 wins and one defeat for the campaign, tangle for the Western division crown of the National Football league.

All seats have been sold for nearly two months and standing room tickets also have gone, assuring a crowd of more than $1,000.

Bears' officials say about 150,000 persons are clamoring for seats for the game, which they tab the greatest box office natural in the history of pro football.

The Cardinals, who broke into greatness only in the past two years, defeated the Bears twice last season enroute to winning the National crown. The same club is back this time with Charlie Trippi, Elmer Angsman, Pat Harder, Paul Christman and others making it the most feared offensive unit in the league.

The Bears, an overwhelming defensive team with plenty of punch, too, have added some new attractions—such as Johnny Lujack, Bobby Layne and lineman George Connor. The Northsiders are the only club to defeat the Cards this season.

The Bears' only defeat was to the Eagles in the rain at Philadelphia 12-7, a victory that fused the easterners' march to their divisional honors.

Currently, the Bears are slight favorites.

The rivalry between the two clubs started in 1920 and is the oldest in pro football. The Bears hold an edge with 38 wins, 12 losses with six games being tied. During this span the Bears have uncorked 980 points to the Cards' 528.

DON BLACK "FAIR"

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 8—Charity hospital called pitcher Don Black's condition fair today following a major brain operation to remove a weak spot in an artery. The Cleveland Indian, who suffered a brain hemorrhage in a ball game last fall, was operated on yesterday because of recurrent severe headaches.

DEALS AND HAIR DOS. Such huddles as this one are common in Minneapolis hotels as baseball bigwigs gather for the annual minor league meeting. Usually the talk centers on buying, selling or trading ball players but this one revolved around hair-dos, or lack of hair to do. President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians (center) and Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants (right) conceded the argument to Manager Tommy Heath of the Minneapolis Millers.

Majors Hog Spotlight At Minors' Convention

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 8—Today was the official opening of the 47th annual minor league convention, but as usual, it was the majors who hogged the spotlight, as far as any important baseball news was concerned.

Trade rumors here in the lobby of the Nicollet hotel flew thicker than the snow flakes which blanketed the streets outside. However, out of al lthis potpourri emerged several deals that smacked of authenticity. One or two are almost certain of being completed before the magnates move on to Chicago for the big league meetings next week. The others probably will be announced in the Windy City.

A member of the official family of the New York Giants said he expected to announce a "big trade" before the day is over. Although he refused to say who or what club was involved, he promised "a pretty good story."

It is known that manager Leo Durocher is eager to palm off his big catcher, Walker Cooper, and his slugging first basemen, Johnny Wise. Bob Hannegan, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, is openly interested in Cooper, especially if the latter's knee operation proves a success. Pitchers Red Munger and Murry Dickson figure prominenlty in such a deal.

The Giants would like to get first basemen Eddie Waitkus, catcher Clyde McCullough and pitcher Cliff Chambers from the Cubs. Charlie Grimm, boss of the Bruins, has indicated an interest in Mize, but was non-commital when pressed for a statement.

Shaughnessy Takes Blast at Majors

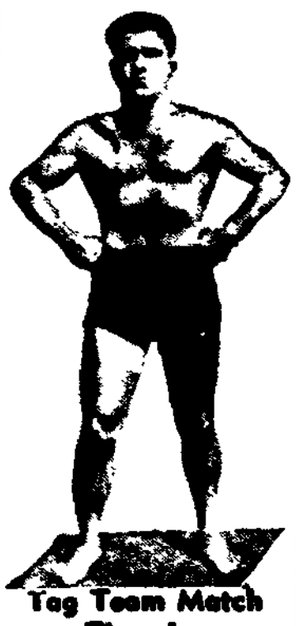

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 8—Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International league, took a blast today at the majors for their high-powered attendance promoting in minor league cities, and warned that this "evil is more acute and more pressing than television."

Keynoting the opening of the 47th annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues here, Shaughnessy, a member of the association's executive committee, said:

"Last season every one of Cleveland's Sunday games drew at least 5,000 people away from Buffalo alone. The New York Yankees ran special busses from Newark and the rest of New Jersey. They went into minor league territory for their customers, and they weren't the only ones. Boston worked out all sorts of promotional schemes. So did Cincinnati."

Shag said he would press for some action here and a resolution would be taken to the major league meetings in Chicago next week.

Tag Team Match Thursday

Last Thursday night at the armory the team of Dutch Schultz and Dale Wayne proved a little too rough for the team of Steve Nenoff and Joe Wolfe. This coming Thursday Schultz and Wayne will be meeting the team of Martino Angelo and Killer Joe Christy and what a team for Angelo and Christy proved to be the winning team in Toledo matches.

About every wrestling fan remembers Angelo as the toughest and roughest grappler ever to wrestle on the local mat and while Christy will be a newcomer to local fans, he won't remain a newcomer for the six feet three grappler from Canada is considered just about the best in the 200 pound class. While the feature match will be for the best two out of three falls with a two-hour time limit, there will be two thirty minute matches in which Angelo will meet Wayne and Schultz will tangle with Christy in the other.

Don Wilson and Jack Wilson will open this all star card with a ten minute prelim starting at 8:30. Prices 50-75-1.00 Call Markert & Lewis Cigar Store for your best ringside.—Adv.

County Men Triumph, 43-37 in Wild Game

St. Mary suffered its first loss to the Morral Wildcats, 43-37, last night in one of the wildest and oddest basketball games played on Morral's floor.

The officials called 38 infractuons of the rules.

The Irish scored only five points the whole first half and Cork Cusick was responsible for those, sinking a bucket and three free tosses. Morral, on the other hand, opened with a 12-point scoring rampage which St. Mary could not overcome although they came very close in the closing minutes of the contest.

The Irish, after scoring only five points in the first half, came back to score eight in the third and 24 in the fourth period.

Tough Team

"Morral is one of the toughest teams we'll meet this year," stated Coach Sharrock, and Morral's three previous victories — all by lopsided scores — bear out his words.

If anybody deserves laurels, they will have to go to Morral's center and captain, Jim Weston. He sparked the Wildcat defense and controlled the majority of rebounds. The county men used a unique defense which consisted of a pressing man-to-man in the fore-court and a two-one-two zone in the back-court. Coach Treese summed up his team's hard luck in these words: "We lost to a better team and added to that our offense wasn't clicking in the first half."

Cork Cusick, St. Mary guard, opened the scoring with a two-pointer from in front of the foul circle for the Irish' first and last basket for the half. From then on it was all Morral. Bob Cook, Wildcat guard, marked up Morral's first tally with a sucker shot. He then added another basket, which with a basket and free throw apiece by Merle Hilborn and Dick Granlee and a lone bucket by Berle Hilborn, gave Morral a first period advantage of 12-2.

Cork Cusick swished three foul shots for St. Mary's points in the second frame. The Irish tightened their defense and the quarter was mostly an intercepted pass affair. Merle Hilborn and Cook, with a bucket each, and Granlee with one free throw and Weston with two collaborated for the Wildcat scoring in the second stanza. The scoreboard read, 19-5 in Morral's favor at halftime.

Come Back in Third

St. Mary outscored the Wildcats in the third period eight points to seven. Jim Cusick, forward, cut the ice for the Irish and Ed Moloney added four more while Bill Merchant chalked up two. Merle Hilborn, Dick Granlee and Captain Weston each tallied a basket along with a foul shot by Weston to account for Morral's points.

The Irish, scoring 34 points, kept the fans on their feet most of the final quarter when, led on by Bill Marchants' five baskets, they came within three points of Morral five times. The Wildcats, scoring 17 points, weathered the attack, however, and went on to come out on top of a 43-37 final score. Dick Granlee did yeoman service, hooping four markers in the waning minutes.

The St. Mary Reserves again tasted defeat 37-26. They took an early 10-4 lead but were overtaken just before the half, 13-12. The junior Wildcats held on to their margin to come out the victors. Tom Rizzo again led the Irish Reserves in scoring with 13 while Litteral took honors for the Morral Jay Vees with 15.

Ez Doesn't Like To Think About Fighting Joe Louis

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 — Ezzard Charles sat on a battered couch in a Harlem gymnasium, slowly taping the brown fists which elevated him from a pawn shop porter to heavyweight challenger, and mumbled that he "don't like to think about fighting Joe Louis."

That puts the Cincinnati puncher in a class with a lot of people. But his reasons are different from most, the rest being fearful even of an old and slipping Joe.

"I wouldn't want to be the one to knock out Louis," said the broad shouldered young Charles who looms large among the pretenders to the throne. "Somebody might but it would make me sad to do it. Joe will always be the champion to us folks."

• • •

IT WAS A QUIET statement of fact from the hard-hitting Negro who meets Joe Baksi in Madison Square Garden Friday night—for the right to face Louis in a title bout next summer. It makes of Charles a reluctant 12 to 5 favorite in this elimination.

"But if we win good," interrupted Manager Jake Mintz, a broken-nosed pale-eyed little man, "we will claim the heavyweight title unless Louis gives us a shot. If he does, we'll give him back the title and fight for it."

That sounds slightly generous of Monsieur Mintz. But Jake is working on the theory that Louis named Charles as the best heavyweight around—and has expressed a desire not to be forced into a meeting with the tigerish young man who punches like two tons of bricks.

The Charles camp doesn't believe Louis ever will give them a shot. And Mintz screamed, as Ezzard continued to wrap his hands, that Charles is the only logical man after knocking out such king sized clouters as Elmer Ray, Jimmy Bivins and Archie Moore.

• • •

EZZARD JUST kept on chewing gum and kneading his hands as Mintz stated his case. And the musical "blackout boy," who plays the bull fiddle and saxaphone, hummed a tune as he climbed into ring gear.

"I don't think how I'll do in any fight before I make it," he answered when asked how he thought he would do against Baksi, and then grinned shyly when questioned as to how he ever started fighting.

"I don't like to talk about that," Ezzard replied. "It sounds funny. But the honest answer is that I made up my mind to be a fighter after reading Dynamite Dunn in the Curly Kayo comic strip."

It isn't too funny at that. For Ezzard packs a lot of dynamite himself with 40 knockouts to his credit in 66 fights.

Maybe young Ezzard is serious about not wanting to fight Louis. But if he ever does, the young musician looked as if he might be able to make it quite a jam session.

U. OF CINCINNATI FIRES RAY NOLTING

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Dec. 8 — The University of Cincinnati dusted off the "help wanted," sign today for its football coach's office.

Ray Nolting, a U. C. graduate and former Chicago Bears player, joined the ranks of unemployed football coaches yesterday when the university's board of directors voted unanimously against renewing his contract.

A note of bitterness pervaded the whole affair.

Nolting, who directed U. C. teams to 24 victories as against 15 defeats and one tie in four years, refused to resign. Then, after his ouster was voted, he said, "there's one board member against me—he's been opposing me since I took the job." He described the dispute as a personal battle and said, "I lost."

The dismissed coach asserted the board member wanted to "coach the ball club from his office."

Just how long that "help wanted" sign will remain out at U. C. was problematical.

Dr. Reed Shank, chairman of the board's athletic committee and the man who made the motion that Nolting's contract not be renewed, said "we have no plans at this time" as to the hiring of a new coach.

Big 9 To Rule On Caddie Scholarships

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 8—Are scholarship winners in the national caddy golf tournament eligible to compete in Big Nine athletics?

Ohio State university's faculty representative, Dr. Wendell Postle, said last night the question probably would be discussed this weekend at the conference's winter meeting.

Postle said he asked Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus, originator of the tourney, to write Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, the Big Nine commissioner, outlining how the scholarship awards are made.

The mayor, who also is national AAU president, said he would write Wilson, assuring the commissioner tournament rules would be changed if necessary to comply with Big Nine regulations.

Chick Hendrikson, of Sandusky, O., the 1946 winner, now is enrolled at Ohio State. He won a four-year scholarship valued at $1,500.

Edison Topples Mt. Gilead, 48-40

Special to The Star

EDISON, Dec. 8—The Edison cagers poured in 18 points in the final period to topple Mt. Gilead here last night, 48-40. Going into the fourth quarter Edison led by only a point.

Guard Goare led the Edison barrage with 16 points and McCarty, Mt. Gilead forward, was the night's high man with 19. Edison won the reserve game, 30-29.

COACH OF THE YEAR. Bennie G Oosterbaan (above), head football coach at the University of Michigan, was voted "coach of the year" in the New York World Telegram's annual poll. Oosterbaan, who led the Wolverines through a perfect season, succeeds Fritz Crisler, who received the honor last year.

NEVILLE DENIES HE'S BACKING NEW MEET

Joe Neville of Delaware, father of Delaware's Grand Circuit harness horse race meeting climaxed annually by the Little Brown Jug race, today denied a report he was one of the backers of a new race venture in Cincinnati. "My name might be mentioned," said he, "but I'm not in the syndicate."

The Associated Press reported yesterday that Neville and several other harness horse enthusiasts had formed a syndicate for the purchase or lease of the River Downs race track in Cincinnati and hope to join the Grand Circuit, taking the place of Milwaukee, which has dropped from the circuit.

The Cincinnati Hardness Horse association, now in the process of formation, has asked Samuel A. Haas of Cleveland, executor of the estate of Edward P. Strong, to set a price on the track or suggest a lease with privilege of purchase, Attorney Ralph A. Tooker, representing the syndicate, announced yesterday. Strong, a Clevelander, was the principal stockholder in River Downs.

Tooker said other persons backing the local harness horse association included: C. M. Saunders, Toledo, O., industrialist; Ben Wood, Hopkinsville, Ky.; and Earl Coburn, Lebanon, O.

Scores 31 Points Though Team Loses

By The Associated Press

Guard Paul Nemetz of Marietta college staked a strong claim last night to Ohio college basketball's 1948-49 one-game scoring record.

The short, stocky Nemetz flipped in 31 points against Ohio university. But the Bobcats had too much team balance (five players scored nine points or more) and they came out on top, 79-60.

The game, played at Athens, opened Ohio's season. Nemetz sank 13 of 23 shots from the field and five out of five free throw attempts. Ohio's Gene Kinsley kept pace for a time, and finished with 22 points.

TO DEDICATE GYM

By The Associated Press

OBERLIN, O., Dec. 8—Oberlin college's new $125,000 field house will be dedicated Saturday night when the Yeomen cagers open their season against the University of Rochester. The field house has a portable floor, glass backboards, an electric scoreboard and a seating capacity of 2,300.

ELECTED GRID CAPTAIN

By The Associated Press

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 8—Tom Hoffman, a 22-year-old center from Ashland, Ohio, was elected 1949 football captain of the university of Rochester last night.

CARDINGTON VICTORIOUS

The Cardington Pirates edged Ashley, 44-43, in a tight contest at Ashley last night, pushing in 14 points in the last frame to 12 for the Aces to end one point ahead. Roach paced the victors with 16 points. Murray led Ashley with 14.

Miami Dominates All-Star Team of Mid-America Loop

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec 8—The Redskins of Miami university dominated the Mid-American conference all-star team today, just as they did the league during the 1948 grid campaign.

Coach George Blackburn in his first year at the helm, won the loop laurels with four straight conquests and placed four of his boys on the all-star squad selected by The Associated Press.

The selections, based on ballots from the circuit's coaches, are recognized as official by the light little loop governed by commissioner Dave Reese of Dayton, a former Denison great.

The mighty Miamis piled up 1,332 yards and 147 points in rolling over four conference foes, and their outstanding stars dotted the honorary team. Heading the list as the league's outstanding vote-getter and ground-gainer was halfback Paul Shoults.

Shoults, a former Army staff sergeant from Washington Court House, made 341 yards in 34 rushes for a 10.1 average, and paced the loop with six touchdowns in four games.

Mel Olix, T-formation wizard of the Redskins, retained his 1947 spot as quarterback of the all-stars, his six touchdown passes leading the loop by one over Cincinnati's Tom O'Malley, who wound up on the third string behind Western Michigan's Norm Harris.

With Olix and Shoults in the backfield were Jim Dougherty of Cincinnati and Francis Moriarty of Butler, a pair of 26-year-old stars who blasted for better than five yards each time they carried the ball.

Dick Urich, Miami's sparkling end from Wapakoneta, was the only sophomore to break into the lineup along with five seniors and five juniors. John Marco, Ohio university junior from Warren, won the other end position.

The tackle jobs went to John Murphy, Butler junior, and John Weaver, Miami's outstanding senior lineman—a repeater from 1947. John Vilhoski of Cincinnati retained his guard position, and paired with Edward Lewis of Western Reserve.

The center berth went to Western Michigan's gigantic Charles Schoolmaster by a heavy margin, no one being close to the 230-pound six-foot five-inch junior from Kalamazoo.

The all-league forward wall averages 201 pounds and the backfield 181 with fullback Moriarty the lightest on the team at 170.

Ohio State League Should Be Braves' Favorite Loop

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. — If followers of the Boston Braves have any favorite minor league it should be the Ohio State League.

Out of it came Billy Southworth, who began at Portsmouth in 1912, and Hank Gowdy, world's series hero of 1914, whose career started at Lancaster four years earlier.

Hank got to Fairfield county on the recommendation of Bob Quinn, Hall of Fame director and then connected with the Columbus club.

Lancaster wanted a first baseman and appealed to Quinn for help. He told Jim Davidson, a druggist at Lancaster and connected with that club, Gowdy would suit and that his pay should be $75 a month. Davidson only wanted to pay $60.

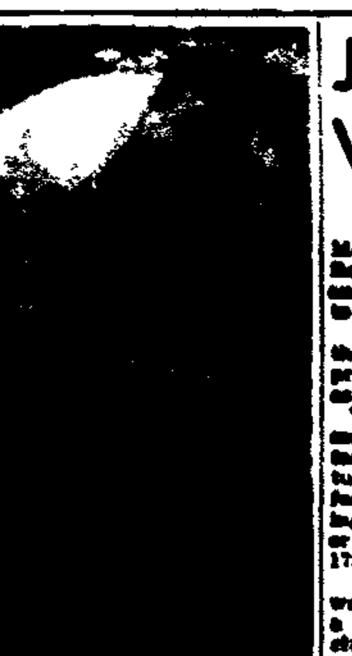

After a long phone conversation Hank got his $75 and became connected with a club that had one of the star minor league pitchers of the country—Walter Justus. Justus pitched four no-hitters that year—against Mansfield, Lima, Marion and Portsmouth. He was physically handicapped or else he would have gone places in higher company. The Browns gave him a trial and so did the Jersey City Skeeters, but he had success with neither.

Quinn himself got his start in Marion, later an Ohio State league town. He came to Marion in the 1890's from Columbus with a gang to lay brick on Marion's first paved street. While in Marion, he played on a semi-pro team that later he helped organize into a professional outfit that played in the OSL.

NEW FLOOR FOR GARDEN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—Famed Madison Square Garden has a new floor—a $150,000 one. The floor was completed in four weeks by a crew of 200 working night and day. It would ordinarily have taken five months. Thirteen miles of pipes form part of the floor. They make the ice for hockey games and ice shows. Twenty-one thousand square feet of protective zinc underlay the bed and over it was poured 75 truckloads of cement. A top layer of pink terrazzo marble completed the job.

FIRST SIGN OF SPRING. Frank (Spec) Shea, New York Yankee pitcher, is getting the jump on spring training, at New Haven, Conn. Here he is doing laborer's work for a construction firm. Last season Shea reported overweight to the Yankees' spring training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., but says it won't happen this year. Thus far he has lost 20 pounds and hopes to drop 10 more to 190 by March 1.

OWU SEEKS NO. 2 AGAINST OTTERBEIN

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Dec. 8 — Ohio Wesleyan's cagers, who successfully opened their season Saturday night with an easy 66-49 victory over Hillsdale, travel to Westerville Thursday night to face the Otterbein quintet in an Ohio conference battle.

The Wesleyan-Otterbein series dates back to the former's first year of cage competition—1905-06—when the Bishops salvaged a one-point win. In their 19 games to date, Wesleyan has won 17 with Otterbein taking only two. Last season the Bishops captured two from their rivals, winning 50-49 at Westerville and 66-47 at Delaware.

Big Jud Millhon, sophomore center from Upper Arlington, lived up to advance notices in the opener by pacing the scorers with 10 field goals and four free throws for 24 points. Jud led the freshman squad last season to an unblemished record with a 20-point per game average.

Another sophomore, Russ Ramsay of Massillon, also sparkled in his varsity debut. He clicked for nine points to take second scoring honors among the Bishops.

Coach Bob Strimer probably will stick to the starting five that opened against Hillsdale. That would put Johnny Meyer and Jack Smith at the forwards, Jud Millhon at center, and Captain Chuck Buttermore and Jack Moore at guards. Bill Millhon, Jud's twin brother, will see a lot of action at forward and Ramsay might break into the starting array at guard.

The Bishops have booked another opponent—Western Ontario at London, Ontario, on Dec. 21—to bring their season's slate to 25 games.

HONOR LATE TED HORN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 — The automobile racing world honored the late Ted Horn last night as the only man to win the national driving championship three times in a row. The trophy awarded the top driver of the year was presented to the famous racer's widow at a dinner given by the contest board of the American Automobile association. Horn was killed in a racing crackup at Duquoin, Ill., Oct. 10.

ALEX GROZA HONORED

By The Associated Press

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 8 — Center Alex Groza of Martin's Ferry, O., last night was elected captain of the Kentucky basketball squad. The six foot seven inch senior has played three seasons of varsity ball.

Glenn Presnell's 54-yard field goal is the longest in National Football league history. It was kicked Oct. 7, 1934 and gave the Detroit Lions a 3-0 victory over Green Bay.

Joe Maxim Joins Heavies Waiting for Title Shot

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec 8 — Joe Maxim today joined the assorted flock of heavyweight title aspirants waiting in the reception room to do business with Joe Louis.

And business being what it is in the heavyweight division, Maxim probably has as good a product as any to sell.

The arena crowd of 11,104 didn't see anything spectacular, but the fancy-boxing Clevelander did turn in a workman-like performance last night in outpointing Jimmy Bivins in a 10-rounder. Maxim weighed 182½, Bivins 178.

Bivins, a top ranker during the war years, was in the midst of a comeback campaign that included an impressive performance against Louis in an exhibition a few weeks ago.

Louis had labeled Bivins the toughest opponent he had met on his exhibition tour up to that time, but the Cleveland Negro was no puzzle to Maxim last night.

Maxim kept his fellow townsman off balance most of the fight with his sharp jabbing and hooking. Every time Bivins started a rally he found Maxim's left in his face.

The fight wasn't a dock-walloping affair and frequent clinches kept Referee Jackie Davis busy.

Bivins and Maxim each lost a round because of low blows.

Referee Davis and the two judges couldn't see eye-to-eye on the outcome. Davis called Bivins the winner by a 6 to 4 count, while judges Charlie Bill and Herb Williams voted Maxim five rounds, Bivins four and one even.

The win put Maxim in line for a probable bout with Jersey Joe Walcott here Jan. 13. Matchmaker Larry Atkins says he has offered Walcott $30,000 to fight Maxim and is certain of an acceptance.

In another scheduled 10-rounder, featherweight champion Sandy Saddler disposed of lightweight Eddie Giosa of Philadelphia at 1:34 of the second heat.

Saddler, whose title was not at stake, weighed 130 to Giosa's 136.

The Christmas fund show sponsored by the Cleveland News drew a gate of $68,068.

Princes Open Against Detroit Tech Thursday

Special to The Star

TIFFIN, O., Dec. 8 —Heidelberg's 1948-49 basketball schedule gets under way this week, with the opening game to be played with Detroit Tech in Detroit, Dec. 9.

The schedule includes nine home games and nine on opponents' courts. Detroit Tech, Findlay college and Ohio Wesleyan are now on Heidelberg schedule this season, while Wright Field, Kenyon and Assumption have been dropped this year.

Coach Paul Hoernemann's Student Princes won 12 victories last year and lost 10. The squad looks somewhat stronger this year, with nearly all of the important lettermen back, and several newcomers who look good.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND—Joey Maxim, 182, Cleveland, outpointed Jimmy Bivins, 178, Cleveland, 10. Sandy Saddler, 130, New York, knocked out Eddie Giosa, 136, Philadelphia, 2 (not-title).

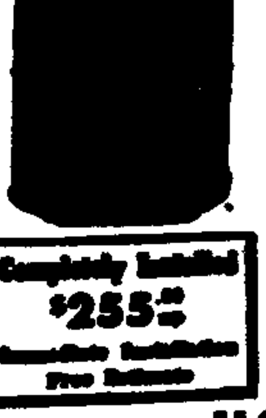

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Sid Peaks, 215, Louisville, knocked out Bert Brown, 199, Cincinnati, 1.

MINISTERS CHANGE PLAN OF MEETINGS

County Association To Hold Sessions at Churches.

A new plan of the Marion County Ministerial association for holding meetings in various churches for the purpose of "increasing fellowship," was launched Monday when the group convened at the Methodist church in Kirkpatrick. Wives of the members attended, and the meeting was followed by a luncheon. It is hoped that more rural pastors will now take an interest in the organization, officers of the association stated. The next meeting was announced for Wesley Methodist church in Marion, with wives to attend.

Dr. Henry Schaeffer reported on Christian Rural Overseas Program project, the "food train" program for overseas relief. The matter of Marion county assuming a share in relocation of refugee displaced persons from overseas was discussed. Rev. Ellis Guthrie, secretary, was instructed to send letters to various churches of the county asking congregations to assist one or more refugee families in locating homes and jobs in this county.

Plans were considered for interdenominational cooperation in a week of meetings at Epworth Methodist church the last week of March. At that time, Bishop Hazen G. Werner of the Methodist Ohio conferences will conduct noon and evening services at the church of which Dr. V. E. Busler is pastor. Dr. Busler invited the Ministerial association to arrange for sharing in the noon services which will deal with the evangelistic approach in the psychology of problem counseling, with the messages by Bishop Werner.

COUPLE

$75,000 libel suit Hiss has brought against Chambers in Baltimore.

Hiss has denied the charges in a statement.

Besides the sworn testimony of Chambers, Nixon says that so far the only evidence the committee has on Hiss is bundled up in:

Three memorandums about state department business which Chambers says Hiss gave him and which a handwriting expert says are in Hiss' hand.

Information that most of the documents the committee has stitches to close his wounds, Richards said. They then robbed him and left him along the road, he stated.

The Georges are believed to have fled the southeastern Ohio area on Saturday night. Their whereabouts between Saturday night and Tuesday are unknown, the officers said.

Richards, who was robbed of $70, was in Meigs county visiting a sister when the robbery and assault took place. Leo George had $103.12 on his person when arrested here.

The couple were unarmed and offered no resistance when arrested by local police.

Neither Leon George nor his wife have been arrested previously either here or in Meigs county, according to police reports today.

Earl J. Andrews New Shrine Club President

Earl J. Andrews was elected president of the Marion Shrine club for 1949 at an annual election dinner held Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple. He succeeds E. Paul Bachman in the office.

Chosen to serve with Mr. Andrews were Ernest R. Shinner, vice president, John G. Zimmerman, secretary, Harold W. Steward, treasurer, and Sidney Clark, director. Mr. Bachman was recommended for the appointment of potentate representative from Aladdin Temple by the new president.

FLYNN FINED $50

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 8—Errol Flynn, two-fisted movie star, paid $50 today for kicking a policeman in the shins. The handsome actor of adventurer roles pleaded guilty in magistrate's court to a charge of disorderly conduct. He originally had been charged with third degree assault but the charge was reduced with the consent of his complainant, Patrolman Joseph Bergelea.

PLANS TO REBUILD STORE IN FREMONT

(Picture on Page 16)

By International News Service

FREMONT, O., Dec. 8—The Joseph department store in Fremont opened a temporary office today and immediately began plans for rebuilding the Joseph store destroyed in Monday night's $350,000 fire.

Louis Danzinger, president of the concern, said plans for reconstruction of the building gutted by fire will begin as soon as proper arrangements can be made with executors of the Barney Joseph estate, which owned the flame-swept structure.

Danzinger said the store's entire stock of merchandise was destroyed by the blaze and that shipment of additional supplies from New York has been cancelled. He estimated damage to stock in the store and an annex at $500,000, most of which is covered by insurance.

Damage to the two structures was placed at $250,000 by Fire Chief Urban F. Myers. The annex was constructed only last spring. An additional $100,000 water damage was caused to stock of Miller-Jones' and Nobil's shoe stores, Bintz women's apparel shop, Ben Pollack's jewelry concern, and an S. S. Kresge branch.

The city of Fremont late yesterday launched a fund-raising campaign to provide enough money to complete a half-furnished home started by William Kettner, Fremont fireman who lost his life in fighting the blaze.

RUSS AIM IN BERLIN IS "LITTLE MOSCOW"

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Dec. 8—Communist determination to transform the Russian sector of Berlin into a kind of "Little Moscow" was disclosed today as the east-west conflict tore the city ever wider apart.

Karl Maron, Moscow-trained director of the economic department in the Communist Berlin "government," announced a plan for re-making Berlin's economy to keep pace with the two-year plan in the rest of Russian occupied Germany.

The announcement was featured exclusively today in the official Soviet Army newspaper Taegliche Rundschau. It called for these objectives:

1. Preparation of a two-year plan for Berlin matching economic measures already adopted for eastern Germany by the Communists.

2. "Socialization" of all but the smallest Berlin factories.

3. Turning over to public ownership of property confiscated from "Nazis and war criminals."

A postal blockade meanwhile froze the exchange of mail in the divided city.

Swipes Locomotive, Gives Loco Motive

By The United Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 8—Employes of the Pennsylvania railroad stopped the Negro before he got very far in the big locomotive he had swiped.

Today, William T. Reed explained why he had tried to swipe the engine. "I needed it," he said, "to carry a message from General MacArthur to President Roosevelt."

General MacArthur is in Tokyo. President Roosevelt is dead. And Reed is in jail, charged with tampering with a locomotive.

Ashley Farmer Hurt In Corn Picker Mishap

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, Dec. 8—Donald Jones, 26, of northwest of Ashley, while operating a corn picker late yesterday afternoon at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holt of southwest of Ashley, accidentally caught his left arm in the picker.

His shouts attracted George Pruitt of Ashley, vocational agriculture instructor who was with him at the time, who released Jones' arm by taking apart a portion of the machine. The arm was mashed, but it is considered not too serious. He was treated at the office of an Ashley physician and taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones northwest of Ashley.

CONFESSES MURDER BLAMED ON ANOTHER

By The Associated Press

SAGINAW, Mich., Dec. 8—A former grave digger surrendered to police here today and told them he beat to death a Philadelphia woman last spring when she spurned his advances.

He later fled the city, according to his written statement, because he learned his job required him to dig a grave for his victim.

Police Lt. Joseph Bugenske identified the man as Herbert L. Gulembo, 24, a red-haired foundry worker who recently lost his job here.

Bugenske said Gulembo told him he decided to surrender because he learned that a Philadelphia iceman, whose name he did not know, was accused of the slaying.

Gulembo, in his statement, identified his victim as Mrs. Catherine Miller and said, to the best of his memory, she was killed last April.

Records in Philadelphia show that Hayard J. Jenkins, 19, a Negro iceman, was convicted Nov. 23 on a charge of murdering Mrs. Kathryn Mellor, 43 a writer and artist, last June 7.

Jenkins, facing a possible death sentence, denied a prosecution charge that he confessed the slaying while "filled with lust." Sentence has been delayed pending an appeal for a new trial.

Gulembo was quoted as saying he beat his victim to death with a war souvenir shell in her apartment. A similar death weapon was described at Jenkins' trial.

Married and the father of three children, Gulembo said he was separated from his wife. He came to Reese, Mich., from Scottville, Mich., but recently had been living in a Saginaw rescue mission, a haven for destitute men.

The police lieutenant said Gulembo told of drinking and brooding over the woman's death after he read in Philadelphia papers that the iceman had been convicted of the slaying.

Inspector Suspends Columbus Detective

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS Dec 8—A Columbus detective sergeant was suspended last night on charges of giving away evidence in a state shoplifting ring.

Chief Frank L. Harrison suspended Sgt James A Heise for alleged "misfeasance, malfeasance and non feasance of duty."

The sergeant was charged specifically, said Inspector Thomas A. Scully, with turning over four radios from the police property room to Al Gahn, a former state lightweight boxing champion. Scully said Heise had no authority to release the radios.

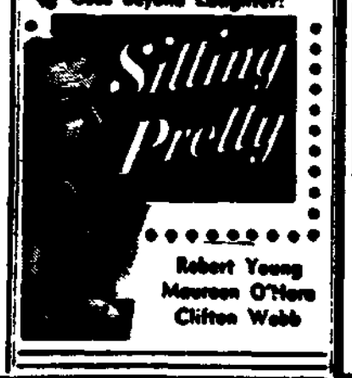

Gahn, proprietor of a decorating company, was bound over to the grand jury Monday on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT

Estate of Sylvia P. Andricka, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given that William F. Andricka has been appointed and qualified as Administrator of the estate of Sylvia P. Andricka, late of Marion County, deceased. Dated at Marion, Ohio, this 29th day of November, A. D. 1948.

EDWARD J. RUZZO, Probate Judge, Marion County, Ohio.
Case No. 17851.
Dec.1,8,15,1948.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE

In the Probate Court of Marion County, Ohio. Cause No. 17760

In the Matter of the Estate of Felice Morganti, Deceased.

The equity belonging to the estate of Felice Morganti, deceased, in the real estate occupied as a residence by said Felice Morganti at number 39 Patten Street, Marion, Ohio, and hereinafter further described will be sold by the undersigned at public auction on December 16, 1948, at said residence address at 10:00 o'clock A. M. said real estate being further described as follows:

Situated in the City of Marion, County of Marion and State of Ohio and bounded and described as follows:

Being part of the north half of section 22, township 5, south range 15 east, commencing in the north line of Patten Street, One Hundred Twenty-five (125) feet west of the corner of the intersection of Greenwood and Patten Streets, as the starting point; thence west with north line of said Patten Street, Seventy-five (75) feet to the land now owned by Elizabeth Thompson; thence north along the east line of Elizabeth Thompson's land, Fifty-three and one-fourth (53¼) feet to a point being the south line of said land owned by Priscilla Sylvester; thence east along the south line of said Sylvester tract, seventy-five (75) feet, thence south parallel with west line of Greenwood Street to the north line of Patton Street, and place of beginning.

Said real estate was appraised at the sum of $3,000.00; the equity in same is $1,076.32, and there are now four payments due the owner of said title to said real estate in the total sum of $100.00. At the time of decedent's death, decedent held a land contract to purchase said premises from the owner thereof, J. V. Sansotta, Marion, Ohio, the amount owed at decedent's death being $1,523.78. The owner of said title to said real estate will permit the purchase of the equity of said decedent and the transfer of said interest in said land contract of said estate to said new purchaser, upon payment by said purchaser of said equity in said real estate together with the payment of the four payments now in arrears in the total sum of $100.00. Terms, cash on day of sale, December 16, 1948. The administrator reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

JOSEPH A. M. SANSOTTA, ADMINISTRATOR OF THE ESTATE OF FELICE MORGANTI, DECEASED.

Boxer Decides Pulpit Excels the Prize Ring

By The United Press

TULSA, Okla.—It may seem like quite a step from the boxing ring to a pulpit, but not for Ted Cotton of Tulsa.

Cotton, 33, a professional fighter for years, is now a freshman ministerial student at the University of Tulsa.

He began boxing in high school and later managed several fighters.

Cotton said he decided to enter the ministry after years of "asking myself what my purpose on earth was."

"About a year ago I found the answer to the question," he explained. "I feel that I have a message to deliver the teachings set forth by Jesus."

German Student Hears "Messiah" in Marion

A [illegible] student [illegible] a Divinity [illegible] & College [illegible] Rey [illegible] weekend [illegible] Christian [illegible] the presentation [illegible] of the oratorio [illegible] by the Marion [illegible] he considered a great opportunity [illegible] observations of the [illegible] Mr Rey said he thoroughly enjoyed the singing as it was something he had been waiting to hear the three months he has been in the United States

Mr Rey explained that he had taken part in several productions of the oratorio in his native country in the past However he said, they have always presented the entire oratorio and rehearsals are held for six months in preparation.

Recalls Former Day

In his observance prior to the start of the oratorio Mr Rey said that as he was sitting in the church among the Christian people of America he remembered that in Germany sometimes we too had enjoyed nice buildings with comfortable decorations, bright lights and plenty of heat, but today we never have the opportunity of being gathered together in churches and other halls. God's judgment during World War II was upon us—He showed us how earnestly He had visited the iniquity of our people and even of the Christians Then, in writing his observations, he asked of the American people. Are you thankful for all this privilege of an easy life in your country and are you thankful to God"

Mr Rey explained that the organ prelude testified good news from Heaven the angels bring," and likewise the invocation was "dedicated to both who are ministered this evening by their music and all who were listening"

Other Observations

His further observations, which he noted at various times throughout the presentation were as follows "Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God. These words from the 40th chapter of Isaiah were by Handel better interpreted as many preachers can do God is promising His people again and again that He will be with them whatever the world confusion will be Therefore the chorus which is in Handel's design "the strong voice of all true believers," answered with "And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed" And then the great mystery was powerfully unfolded, first by recitative, air and chorus they all united to proclaim the message of the prophets of the Old Testament culminating in "For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given—and His name shall be called—the Prince of Peace"

"Secondly the Apostles of the New Testament were heard as they describe the wonder and miracle of the Christmas. Under the government of the Roman Emperor Caesar Augustus, appeared the angels among the shepherds near Bethlehem, triumphantly saying the Savior which is Christ the Lord. He is the testimony for God's good will towards men"

Two-Fold Objective

Mr Rey said the opportunity for him to hear the presentation had a two-fold objective First he said, for those reverent moments he was at home by the help of the German composer Handel, and secondly, he was with all his existence connected with those diligent hearers who gave all praise to God

Mr Rey concluded by saying I'm not the man to criticize those who were singing playing and conducting, they all did their best But I hope that the audience the next time will have more reverence to this best musical interpretation of the Bible which the world ever saw and heard If we as a Christian community are worshipping God in this outstanding service, then let's do it clear to the end"

Mr Rey, whose home is at Frankford on the Main river, was invited to study in the United States by the World Council of Churches for one year He is a graduate of the University of Bonn on the Rhine river with a Vikar degree

TO ACCEPT THRONE. Born in Germany, Arthur Semonu (above) 28, a truck driver of Wiesbaden, has declared he will accept the throne offered him in a letter from his grandmother, queen of an African tribe in the Togo region. The native ruler asked Semonu to assume his royal duties as she is now "too old to rule a million people"

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"But, of course, it was a lively corpse once you tried the proper resuscitation methods," Dicky said with a grin

"Most active," Harry Underwood assented. "And we didn't have to stick a single pin into him. I did it all with the sound of my mellifluous voice"

"Stop lifting yourself up on a pedestal," Dicky told him, laughing, "and give out"

"You have no flair for theatric suspense," the big man said sadly "but I'll humor you I simply said in matter-of-fact tones, 'This is a piece of luck. While he's out, cold, I'll have a chance to test that hair of his Don't try to revive him until I get through.'"

"If the spiel had the same effect it did up at the studio," Dicky said, "you have a right to pin a medal or two on your suspenders"

"That was a feeble effort he gave up there at the studio," his big friend said with a reminiscent chuckle "He handed out the real stuff down at the hideaway, especially after I brought out my little experimental kit. He threatened us all with deaths ranging from the torture of the boiled eggs, to being flayed alive

"But it didn't do him any good save for giving his vocal chords a good workout, although I fear he did overstrain them," Harry went on "He couldn't move anything except his voice, and I went right ahead with my tests."

He paused, and I knew he unconsciously was emphasizing his theatrical effect, something as natural as breathing to the man so long connected with the profession.

"You've worked up a very nice suspense," Dicky told him with a grin. "Don't weaken your effect. How did your test turn out?"

"Just as I expected," Harry said smugly. "The hair originally was as nearly platinum blond as could be imagined."

"Yes?" Dicky said tensely. "What else?"

"What we predicted, up there. The lad was a startling caricature of Carlotta Carroll."

Dicky gave a long, low whistle. "Whew" he said. "What did Dad say?"

"Very little, as of course you'd expect," Harry answered. "You know the Chief. If he ever approaches what passes with Bim for loquacity, everything's serene with the world. The more difficult his problem, the quieter he gets."

"Well, then" Dicky said impetuously. "What did he do?"

"Listened and watched while 'X' did his level best in humane but effective 'interrogation,'" Harry said with a grin. "Then when the results held some meager clues evidently obvious to the Chief, although they appeared flimsy to 'X' and me, your father said he was leaving, and that he would get in touch with us later."

"Did he go alone?" Dicky asked. "Didn't he take 'X' with him?"

Dr. James Bender, Director of the National Institute for Human Relations, claims that teachers make the best wives. He reports the school marms are lovable, eager to marry, less talkative than most other women and that they have a deep affection for children. It might be interesting to get a reaction from the kid who was caught chewing gum in class the other day . . . but that could be biased. Whether or not the Doc is correct, he's on the right track. School teachers deserve all the praise they can get. If a child gets good grades, we give the youngster a heap of credit; but if he gets poor ones, the teachers get the blame.

The Christmas Tree Caravan Is Being Sponsored by the National Retail Dry Goods Association . . . . with the Cooperation of the ABC Network, the Newspapers, and Department Stores Across the Nation. We Are Indeed Happy To Participate in Such a Worthy Project!

You Can Help Make This A Christmas That Some 535

Needy Children

In Marion Won't Forget!

HUNDREDS of underprivileged children in Marion will have a happier Christmas this year because of the Christmas Tree Caravan. It is a nation-wide movement to provide gifts of clothing by inviting the public to place presents for underpriviliged children beneath Christmas trees in department stores.

Place Your Gift of Warm Clothing For Some Underprivileged Girl or Boy Under The Christmas Tree on the First Floor at Uhler's

CHRISTMAS is for everybody, and here in Marion we want those little youngsters, who are less fortunate than others, to have a Christmas . . . and we're sure you want it too. That's why we think you'll be glad to support this Christmas Tree Caravan idea . . . by placing your gift of some item of new warm, clothing under our Christmas Tree. Sweaters, suits, dresses, gloves, socks, shoes . . . things youngsters need. Select your gift anywhere you wish . . . just wrap it and on the card tell about it . . . the size and whether it is for a girl or boy.

All Gifts Received Will Be Distributed By The Salvation Army Just Before Christmas

WE, HERE at Uhler's, are working hard to make this project a success. The Salvation Army will distribute the gifts to the needy children and we're certain it will be done in a very careful, thoughtful manner. The real success depends on YOU . . . the present you put under the tree will probably be the most gratefully received of all the presents you will give this year . . . for yours may be the only gift some needy child will get.

No Gift Given This Christmas Will Be More Appreciated Than the One Given To a Needy Child!

Installation of New Officers Held by OES

Installation ceremonies for officers of Lydia Chapter No. 83, Order of Eastern Star, headed by Mrs Mary G. Conyers as worthy matron were held Monday night at the Masonic temple followed by a reception in the temple dining room. Several officers of the grand chapter of Ohio and a district officer were present.

Others installed include Rayl B Conyers, worthy patron; Mrs. Mary M Craven, associate matron and Robert E Craven, associate patron; Miss Pauline Ruhl, secretary; Mrs Eloise Youngs, treasurer; Mrs. Naomi E Hohe, conductress and Mrs. Lucille F. Conrad, associate; Mrs Mary Livensperger, chaplain; Mrs Gertrude Burton, marshal; Mrs Eve Hunter, organist; Mrs Leah R Pennisten, Adah; Mrs Mary R Ames, Ruth; Mrs. Lucylle Zieg, Esther; Mrs Ruth A. Fields, Martha; Miss Mary K Smith, Electa; Mrs. Anna Marie Bush, warder; and David Montgomery, sentinel.

Installing Officers

Installing officers were Mrs. Florence Pickere, Mrs Gail Montgomery, Mrs Katharine Smith, Mrs. Jennie Ewing, Mrs. Emma Taylor, Mrs. Vera Koons, Mrs. Ethelwyn Muntsinger, Mrs Dorothy Galladay and Vayne Galladay.

For the reception, decorations were evergreen and white candles. Past matrons of Lydia chapter served. Special music was by Mrs. Koons, at the piano and Miss LaVada Ellison, Mrs. Florence Bryant and Larry Bryant who played marimbas.

The guests included Mrs. Fairy Gingery, past matron of the grand chapter of Ohio, O.E.S., Mrs Genevieve Hawkins of Columbus, grand representative of Vermont, Mrs Zoa Hill of Caledonia, representative of North Dakota, Mrs. Margaret Hall of Marion, deputy grand matron of District No. 11, and Harvey T Gracely, past master of the grand council, R and S. Kenton Man Is Held For Grand Jury Action

KENTON Dec 8—Ray Baum of Kenton waived reading of an affidavit charging cutting with intent to wound or kill, pleaded innocence when arraigned before Mayor Loucks H Brown. Baum was bound over to the Hardin county grand jury under $500 bond which was not furnished.

Baum was charged by Lloyd McKinley of Toledo with having cut him as he entered a Kenton cafe. When Baum was apprehended by Kenton police on Nov 9, he tried to escape, police said, and he was shot in the shoulder.

San Antonio hospital here has presented a bill of $374.13 to the city for Baum's hospitalization from Nov 9 to Nov 29.

250 Attend Moose Initiation Ceremony

Approximately 250 attended activities of Marion Lodge No. 889, Loyal Order of Moose, Sunday, when initiation ceremonies for 26 were conducted in the afternoon and evening, with a dance concluding the event. A Galion degree team conducted the initiation. Following the ceremonies, luncheon was served, and new members and their wives and friends attended the dance and floor show.

At a lodge meeting Monday night, discussion was held on moving to new quarters. Charles Morbitt was appointed chairman of the youth activities committee, and it was announced that the preparations are being made for launching on an extensive youth program. A fish fry was announced for Friday night. The lodge's Christmas party for children has been set for Dec. 26.

Your Good Health

Cataract in Elderly Patients.

OLDSTERS just have to take it for granted that as the years roll by certain eye conditions may develop. One of the important conditions that often develops is one due to changes in the lens of the eye and is called cataract. The usual complaint in these cases is gradual loss of vision. The patient states that objects appear hazy or cloudy. Sometimes the patient may see dark spots before the eyes which do not change position with movements of the eye. In some cases, there is excessive sensitivity to light. Others may complain of double vision. Some find that the eyesight is better in dim light. These patients never lose the ability to tell light from darkness.

If such a condition occurs, probably some disease of the back part of the eyeball, such as bleeding, or of the nerve of the eye, is also present.

In certain cases, an elderly patient may boast that he has developed second sight, which means that after wearing glasses for several years for reading, he finds it possible to read without them. This is a symptom of cataract development and the eyes should be carefully checked.

Cataracts do not cause congestion, redness, or pain in the eyes. The pupil or opening into the eye appears black normally. When a cataract is formed, gray or white areas appear in this region. In advanced cataract, the entire pupil appears gray or white.

In order to make a definite diagnosis, the eye is examined with an instrument known as the ophthalmoscope, which makes it possible for the physician to look directly into the eyeball.

But there is a hopeful side to this condition, for the vision of a patient with cataract can be restored. An operation can be performed and the cataract successfully removed. However, an operation is not advisable if the patient still has useful vision in one eye. If the operation is done at this time, the patient will see double after being fitted with glasses. So the patient should have faith in the doctor when he tells him it is not advisable to have an operation as long as the patient has enough vision to follow his usual pursuits. As soon as the vision in both eyes is inadequate and the patient cannot follow his usual routine, the operation should be performed.

The time for the operation will vary in different patients, depending upon their activities. For example, a tailor or a mechanic will need operation sooner than those doing ordinary labor, since they need better vision to carry on their work.

The wise thing to do is always to let the doctor be your guide. If your eyes bother you, see your doctor without delay.

P. S.: Will you please tell me just what amount of vitamin D to take without doing any harm?

Answer: There is some evidence indicating that very large doses of vitamin D may cause a reaction. However, 500 units daily probably would cause no difficulty.

This is your Gasoline Pump, too...

You can't drive up to this pipeline pump and say "Fill 'er up with X-70." And the man in charge probably never washed a windshield except his own.

But for the big and growing job of getting the gasoline and oil you need, this pump ... and thousands of others you never see ... are more important than the one you know so well.

For back of your gas pump are pumps on the truck tank wagons ... pumps in a gasoline pipeline ... a thousand pumps in the refinery ... pumps on the crude oil pipeline or crude oil river barge ... and finally—back of everything—the pump that lifts the crude oil out of the ground. Every drop of Sohio X-70 that gives you pleasure or helps in your business passed through most of these pumps on its long road to market!

Yes, the oil business is vast, and more complicated than most people realize. And that is why it is taking a little time and so many dollars to gear this giant to the even bigger oil job you want done today.

Sohio is a medium-sized company, selling mainly in a single state. But in the last five years, it alone has invested $140 million* in new oil wells, pipelines, refinery equipment, including $33 million for finding new underground crude reserves. It takes money ... big money to see that you get what you want ... out of the pumps!

*This is quite a lot more money than Sohio operations provide, but out of new borrowings, out of new money from stockholders invested in the business, we make up the difference ... and do the job.

Public Building Policy

THE general assembly's approval of Governor Herbert's recommendation for an extra $1,000,000 to finance a new tuberculosis hospital at Ohio State university raises a question of public building policy.

The hospital was to have cost $2,000,000 in the first place. Estimates soared another million before construction began. It isn't unlikely that still another appropriation may be needed to finish the project.

Public treasuries, with the exception of the federal treasury, which finds no cost too high to pay, are unable to keep up with this kind of inflation. In the case of the governor's other request to the special session for money, to get work started on an administration building at Apple Creek state school for the feeble-minded, a Republican canvass in the lower house of the assembly showed no favor for trying to beat inflation. The project was suspended.

While some public projects, such as the tuberculosis hospital, are so essential they can't be delayed, the course of wisdom is to put off all borderline construction of a public nature until the cost of building has been reduced. This will happen eventually—and when it does happen there will be a great hue and cry for public construction to take up the slack. In that event, taxpayers will be expected to pay the freight, and in the meantime they can look forward to a longer haul for their inflation-cheapened tax dollars.

Is Mr. Truman Surprised?

THE American people, according to one of the more remarkable interpretations of what happened last Nov. 2, voted to reverse their government's Russian policy. This interpretation comes from the imaginative mind of the former New Dealer who uses the pen name of Jay Franklin.

As he sees it, voters who elected Mr. Truman to the presidency were in favor of a "soft" policy toward Russia. Therefore, the United States will quit being tough; it will throw out Gen. Marshall, Secretary of Defense Forrestal and the "alliance of Wall Street and Big Brass."

Mr. Truman must be surprised to learn that this was part of his mandate. Or must he be? The author of the interpretation traveled on the Truman campaign train and helped to write the Truman speeches. Presumably he had and still has the confidence of the candidate he worked for. Those with fairly long memories will recall that in 1932 a Democratic candidate who said he favored cutting government costs, pruning the Washington bureaucracy and getting federalism under control, was elected and thereafter insisted that he had a mandate to spend money like water, add jobholders by the thousand and give the federal government power to control everything from pigs to poverty. Nothing in recent history has been more flexible than a mandate given to the Democratic party.

Free Enterprise: A Sample

A MEMORABLE highlight of the recent congress of American industry at New York's famed Waldorf-Astoria was a dramatization of the rebuilding of the pottery at Scio, Ohio, after the disastrous fire of Dec. 11, 1947. Present, besides 2,000 of the country's leading industrialists, were Lewis P. Reese, the former pottery worker who built a successful enterprise out of the good will of his fellow townsmen, and half a dozen of the men who helped him put up a new plant after the fire a year ago.

The tribute to Mr. Reese and his workers was paid by the National Association of Manufacturers, whose efforts in behalf of free enterprise are criticized by zealots who would like to put all human enterprise in shackles of their own forging. These zealots, whose ideas have been borrowed from the old world, never have been able to understand that in the United States there can be such a thing as genuine good will between managers and workers, between employers and employes.

Nor have they wanted to understand that the productivity of the richest nation on earth was the result of a system in which the enterprise of free men could assert itself without undue restraint. That is contrary to their philosophy, which goes back many centuries to the time when all laws and orders were handed down to the people from remote authorities. There simply is no place in their warped and embittered thoughts for a Scio incident. It makes no sense to them. But it makes sense to the National Association of Manufacturers, which has paid to Mr. Reese and his loyal workers the public tribute that millions have paid privately—because the Scio incident showed what a free enterprise system can do when the system is permitted to work.

Truman, Dewey Meeting

By David Lawrence

Gridiron Club To Hear Off-the-Record Words

WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT TRUMAN and Governor Dewey will sit at the same head table next Saturday night at the dinner given by the Gridiron club, an organization of newspapermen, and both will make off-the-record speeches.

Unless the speakers themselves choose later to tell the public what was said, only those present will know the thoughts expressed there.

But the occasion serves to emphasize the American tradition in which victor and vanquished can sit down together for an evening of good-natured banter over current events.

Ever since the election, Governor Dewey has maintained a remarkable silence. It is remarkable because the press has contained no intimation of alibis or excuses or disappointed feelings or frustration such as might possibly be expected to come from a man who felt he had the presidency in his grasp only to find that by a small margin of votes he lost the prize.

• • •

INQUIRY AMONG close friends of the New York governor reveals that he adjusted himself to the situation much more rapidly, even than did his associates. Not a word of complaint came from him—not a word of blame for anyone on the unexpected turn of events. Many a man would have been floored for a long time by such a reverse. But Governor Dewey was soon cheerful and natural in his demeanor. Those around him say they could not notice that the election result has left any scars or changed his mood.

Only a deeply religious man, one friend said, could so quickly make such an adjustment. What was meant by this is the readiness of God-guided men to accept their fate, whatever it is, believing that the destiny of the individual is set by the Creator and that it is man's duty to accept the vicissitudes of life without rancor or mental depression. There are disappointments in everybody's life, but they are easier to bear if one has conducted himself honestly and exerted his talents and energies to the utmost to attain a given goal.

• • •

IT IS PERTINENT here to ask whether Governor Dewey felt that he pursued the right type of campaign and whether in the light of what occurred he perceives the mistakes in strategy. Again close friends say that he has no regrets for having failed to stem out speeches in old-fashioned campaign fighting style, for he and his managers were convinced that the "unity" idea was too important to be abandoned if a man were to try to keep harmony in the country in the critical years that lie ahead. Being convinced that the Republican nominee would become president, it was necessary to think of what forces could unite the country on the threshold of a possible war or a possible upheaval in the entire economic structure.

It is conceded, however, among Mr. Dewey's friends that he might have made more speeches amplifying his farm program and that this might have turned the tide in the farm areas. It is not conceded that Mr. Dewey might have spoken out on the conservative-radical issues without splitting his own party wide open, thus making difficult any reconciliation or even any substantial advance on the progressive side had he been elected.

• • •

THOSE WHO TODAY complain that Mr. Dewey didn't "speak out" forget that the Republican party contains a substantial number of ultra-conservatives who still think social security and collective bargaining and government aid in various fields is just a lot of nonsense and that the country would be better off by letting nature take its course even if unemployment and distress were to follow. There are also in the Republican party progressives who feel that the voters expect economic security and that economic controls by any group must be vigilantly observed by the government acting in the public interest.

The Republican party is as badly split as the Democratic party on the basic issues. Governor Dewey had the choice of starting his controversy inside the party before or after election. Ironically enough, he will have another opportunity now — and perhaps free from any such restraint as might have come if he had been president — to set forth what should or should not be Republican policy. He certainly will speak out. For whether he is titular leader or not, Mr. Dewey is a progressive Republican and he is young enough to play a vital part in the history of his country. Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, William Jennings Bryan, Elihu Root, George Norris, Wendell Willkie—strong men of divergent philosophies—never became president but each in his time played an influential part in shaping the policies of the United States. It was Clay who said, "I would rather be right than president."

Crop Price Support

By Mark Sullivan

WASHINGTON

LAST week, shipment of Canadian potatoes into the United States was stopped by the Canadian government. Our housewives can no longer get them. While the step was taken by the Canadian government, it was not the wish of that government. It was done at the request of the government of the United States, a request, one infers from the official documents, accompanied by pressure. Our department of agriculture, in announcing the Canadian action, said it assisted our government materially by recognizing the "adverse effect which unrestricted imports of Canadian potatoes would have on the United States potato program."

A press release given out at Ottawa by the Canadian government was to the same effect, but more revealing: "The United States government has contended that the large volume of Canadian potatoes arriving in their principal markets tended to render their price support program ineffective. They were considering the impositions of restrictions but before taking any action they invited discussions between the officials of the two governments."

• • •

THE POTATO PRICE support program of the U. S. department of agriculture has become fairly familiar through widespread public information about steps taken in carrying it out, some so extraordinary as to lead to almost sensational attention from news channels. To the already existing steps is now added another. Consumers are now deprived of the opportunity to buy Canadian potatoes, which were being sold at prices lower than our department of agriculture fixed.

In our potato program, the department each year fixes a figure at which it will support the price. The figure this year, while varying with grades and sections, is about $2.70 a hundred pounds. To support the price the department buys immense quantities of potatoes at this figure for the purpose of taking them off the market, thus putting consumers under the necessity of paying higher prices than they would otherwise need to.

For disposing of the potatoes thus acquired the department has practiced several courses. The potatoes have been sold to manufacturers of starch and alcohol and other commercial products, and also to other countries, at prices much lower than was paid for them. So great have been the losses on some sales that the department on one occasion stated that on a financial basis it would be cheaper to destroy the potatoes.

• • •

ACTUALLY, IN 1946 the department followed this course; many potatoes were left to rot in the ground, or to deteriorate in storage, or, as in one case that became sensational, were heaped up and drenched with kerosene to make them unfit for human consumption. One of the courses followed was described in a senate debate last summer by Senator John J. Williams of Delaware:

"I saw farmers delivering strictly U. S. No. 1 potatoes to the government at the delivery centers and receive in return a price of $2.75 per hundredweight . . . Other government agents were offering for resale these same potatoes to other farmers . . . for the ridiculously low price of one cent per hundredweight. The principal condition to the contract which the farmer signs when he purchases these potatoes for one cent per bag is that he will not allow any of them so purchased to be used for human consumption. He is allowed only to feed these strictly No. 1 potatoes to domestic animals. . . ."

The potatoe program of our department of agriculture was naturally made more expensive by shipments into this country of Canadian potatoes at prices below the support price, the department had to buy more potatoes. A characteristic of the whole principle of price support, now brought to light, is its inherent quality of automatic self-expansion. Not only is a step taken which was not contemplated when our policy of price support was adopted. In addition, the Canadian government, in order to meet a condition created by stopping shipment of potatoes into the United States, is now obliged to adopt a policy of price support in that country. (The Canadian support price, $1.15 per hundred pounds is less than half ours.)

• • •

IT IS BECOMING apparent that the whole policy and mechanism of price support for farm crops generally confronts the Truman administration in a way it will be reluctant to face. Maintaining price support for various crops — especially corn, wheat and cotton — by methods differing from the potato program but including immense purchases by the government, is expected to cost during the coming year an amount estimated at from half a billion dollars to upward of three billions, due to the immense size of several crops. Whatever the figure, it must be faced by Mr. Truman as he goes over the budget now being made up to be sent to congress.

No Help for Men

By William Feather in Imperial Magazine

A GENTLEMAN of 82 years writes us that newspapers are most generous with space devoted to designs of women's apparel though few print even a word about men's clothing.

This reader, a doctor of medicine, wants the tail of the shirt restored to a decent length, as does every other man. He wants the collar put back on night shirts, for protection in a cold bedroom. The back of drawers and trousers should be built up to afford protection to the small of the back, especially for men of outdoor occupation or subject to lumbago. The suspender buttons on the back of trousers should always be on the outside, to reduce pressure on the spine. The legs of pajamas should be buttoned at the ankles to keep them from slithering up on cold nights.

All of these suggestions are good, though they may appeal more to elderly than to young men.

It is a fact, however, that in England, which is a man's world, vastly more attention is given to men's apparel than in the United States. Men in London have ideas and get what they want. In this country, Los Angeles seems to be doing a job for the men in the design of sports and lounging wear.

Improvements in masculine wear are long overdue but so long as women do the buying for men as is the custom here not much gain can be expected.

Reasons for Marriage

By George E. Sokolsky

NEW YORK is suffering the sensation of exposed conspiracy in divorce cases. A group involving lawyers, private detectives and "unidentified" women for a fee, provided the evidence of adultery where no adultery actually occurred. The collusion involved not only the parties who sought a divorce, but the parties who did not commit adultery but gave the appearance of it. The largest share of the money went to the lawyers.

There has never been a secret about this practice. New York state law permits divorce only for proved adultery. It is cheaper to hire these conspirators than to go to Reno or some other such place. It is no more dishonorable to lie about an unconsummated adultery than to lie about a permanent residence in Reno. The lie is the perjury.

The sensational expose in New York has stirred a thousand imaginations on the subject of how to "liberalize" divorce. Some suggest a uniform federal divorce law, passed by congress and applicable to all states. Others propose that New York state revise its laws.

• • •

THE WHOLE POINT of the argument seems to be that marriage is not a sacrament but a private contract of indefinite tenure, to be terminated at will, without regard to social consequences. This is regarded as liberal. The assumption that marriage is an inviolable sacrament based upon natural law and involving social responsibilities is called medieval.

Nothing that has been said about marriage—and divorce is a phase of marriage—is different from anything said about it prior to the expose. The discovery that the "unidentified woman" got $10 for each unconsummated adultery was more shocking because of its cheapness than its occurrence. Many were undoubtedly surprised that the adultery had not been consummated and that one "unidentified" woman was a pregnant mother and another 60 years old.

These incidents in no manner affected the general principles involved nor the broader fact that marriage is treated so lightly both in its origination and its termination. In fact, in none of the current discussions has the child, the family, the welfare of society been considered at all. Emphasis has been upon the right of those who no longer attract each other, principally sexually, to end their relationship at will.

• • •

YET, SOCIETY CANNOT function unless the individuals constituting it, assume their obligations. A nation of Tommy Manvills and Barbara Huttons and those five or six times bespoused, could not long survive, for such persons live without producing families. If marriage is only a fruitless sex relationship, it need not occur at all. If that is all that marriage means, why bother with the ceremony, the civil permit, the social sanction? Would it not be simpler to engage in libertarian or even libertine sex relationship, following only the biologic urge as it occurs and moving apart with total forgetfulness of the occurrence? Certainly, if biology is our moral guide, that would be right and proper.

We come then to the question of why we marry at all. Some say that it is because a girl wants security which marriage gives her even by alimony. Yet, if divorce be made so easy that a marriage can be revoked by a mere assertion of discontent, why marry at all? The answer must be that marriage is the process for creating a family, and that in a family the responsibility and obligation is to the children, not only to have them, to rear them, to nurture them, to provide them with moral guidance, but to set them an example of decent living which they in turn will transmit to their progeny.

It is said that it is better for a child if the parents separate once they are incompatible. But those who accept moral responsibility, reject incompatibility as an excuse for self-indulgence. Those who love their children must control their impulses so that their children will respect them and accept the laws of God as inviolable. Self-indulgence is just as right as "mental cruelty"—or just as wrong.

We need to think this out because admittedly our marriage system has been weakened and our children are suffering from the effects of our neglect of the family as the center of society.

The Once Over

Radio Comics as Corporations

When listening to some of our top radio programs now you have trouble deciding whether you are laughing at a famous comedian or at a super corporation. Big radio chains are buying famous air funnymen via the corporation tax cutting routine. The comics sell themselves as corporations thus paying a 25 per cent capital gains tax on the deal instead of the regulation 80 per cent. Jack Benny has been bought by CBS for a couple of million. Amos & Andy went over by the same route. Other big deals are in the works. Bing Crosby recently went on the air for a new soft drink corporation in a fabulous stock offering operation.

• • •

Are the boys really entertainers or business cartels?

• • •

Are they radio stars or businesses in restraint of trade?

• • •

We used to be interested in whether a well boomed radio star was good; now we ask for his last financial statement and a prospectus for the next fiscal year.

• • •

We think of a radio comedian as we think of car loadings, dividend announcements and the situation in steel ingots. It wouldn't amaze us in the least any day to hear that a comic had been split five for one.

• • •

Congress is threatening an inquiry into the tax angle and we anticipate the cross examination:

Q.—Now then you are one of the country's funniest radio men, are you not?

A.—I resent that understatement.

Q.—And you recently sold your services to XBC did you not?

A.—I did.

Q.—Did you sell yourself as an individual getting a lot of money for his talents?

A.—Certainly not. I sold myself as one of the major corporations of America.

Q.—Are you in all honesty a corporation?

A.—Who's the straight man here, you or me?

Q.—That doesn't matter. I don't care who gets the laughs here as long as Uncle Sam gets a square cut on the dough.

• • •

A.—Everything is strictly on the up and up and Uncle Sam gets all that he is entitled to under the tax laws.

Q.—What are you waiting for?

A.—Studio applause.

• • •

Q.—There was nothing funny in that answer.

A.—Those studio audiences generally laugh anyhow.

Q.—Now how did you come to be a corporation instead of a comedian?

A.—I insist I am both.

Q.—Hooper rates you solely as a comic, not as a business institution.

A.—As long as it rates me high enough I won't quibble.

Q.—Do you consider yourself the same as United States Steel and General Motors?

A.—No. They have to introduce new stuff in their acts more frequently.

• • •

Q.—Now let us get down to the tax factor? Will you explain fully just by what processes your deal comes under the capital gains tax instead of the individual tax?

A.—May I have a recess until Sunday night.

Q.—What for?

A.—I'm having a script on it and a special song. I want this to be convincing to Uncle Sam.

Q.—You want him to get a good laugh?

A.—Yes, but only a capital gains laugh!

What may be the biggest Christmas tree in the world has been set up in Radio City, N. Y. It is nearly 100 feet tall. This is bigger than last year and that one was so large that during the second week of January they found lost in the upper branches a fellow who had started trimming it three weeks before Christmas.

Note of Sympathy

By Truman Twill

Nothing that has happened to them in their experience as first family of the country ever brought Harry, Bess and Margaret closer to the rest of us than the remodeling of the White House. Here is something everybody can understand.

With the difference that the Trumans can live across the street and stay out of the clutter, their headache will be like all the headaches that accompany the remodeling of old houses. Harry will hope to have the lights on the shaving mirror in the bathroom where he can get a better view of his whiskers. Bess will hope to have some of the inconvenience eliminated in the kitchen. Margaret will hope to have a better location for her piano. And, what with one thing and another, all of them will be disappointed. Because the architect and the builders, bless their thick heads, will have other ideas.

When it's all done there still will be no convenient place for the ironing board. Some of the light switches will be in the wrong places. There will be a snafu about doors; some will open the wrong way and conflict with other doors and will be a sucker trap for years to come.

There will be a draft down the stairway. Heating pipes in the basement will bop unwary householders on the forehead if they forget to duck. One of the upstairs bedrooms will be chilly when the wind is blowing from the northwest. A fireplace will puff smoke when the log is placed too close to the front.

The shut-off valve for the water will be inaccessible, which will spell grief some day when there's a flood in the bathroom. The clean-out trap for the main drain will be covered by a careless concrete contractor. There won't be enough cupboard space. There will be a squeaking board in the upstairs hall.

The wallpaper will be put on crooked in the guest room. The flashing on the roof will let in water and ruin 10 square feet of plaster on a rainy night. The front door will stick. Some of the new screens won't fit. The clothes closets won't be big enough, and chipmunks will find a hole big enough to squeeze into the attic and stomp back and forth during the night.

The new paint will peel. Rugs will bunch up under doors. The kitchen sink will be too high or too low for comfort. Bess will find a lot of dust-catchers that only a man would have built into a human habitation. There won't be enough hot water. The sofa won't look right with the new rug in the living room. There won't be any place to plug in the radio, and the new plumbing will rumble like Vesuvius in an angry mood.

It's going to be a tough proposition for Harry, Bess and Margaret, and they are entitled to a full measure of sympathy from all their fellow countrymen who have survived the frustration of making over an old house. Even with congress paying the bills, it won't be any picnic.

Social Affairs

MEMBERS of the Tuesday Study club were guests of Mrs. Charles Fairbanks for their bi-monthly meeting last evening. The program, which was followed by a social hour, was held at the Federation Home. The business session included plans for the annual husbands' party which will be held Dec. 22 at the home. "My Favorite Ejaculation or Aspiration" was the roll call topic and for the program Mrs. Edward T. Huber gave a paper, "The Feast of the Immaculate Conception" and Mrs Harold Monnette presented a review of "The Song of Bernadette," by Franz Werfel. The husbands' party, which will be a dinner, will be in charge of Mrs. Kelley R. Vance, Mrs. Harold Monnette, Mrs Carl Werley, Mrs. W. R. Martin and Mrs. Mary Maxwell. Gifts to be sent to residents of Scioto Village near Delaware were brought by the members.

Mrs. Carl Mayer and Mrs. G. E. Messenger were hostesses for a meeting of the Ben Hur club Monday afternoon at the Federation Home. Mrs. Leonard Thompson conducted devotions using the first chapter of Mathew, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" was sung by the group, and "Under the Capitol Dome" was the subject for roll call.

Mrs. W. B. Burley, president, presided for the meeting and appointed a nominating committee, composed of Mrs. E. L. Weimer, Mrs. J. J. Francis and Mrs. Kendrick Turner. For the program, Mrs. F.J. Hentze presented a paper entitled "Dream Driven," and Mrs. Frank Brabson discussed a paper, "The Trappa." The thought for the day was by Mrs. Charles Melvin.

Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held Dec. 20 at the Federation Home for the patronesses and guests. A gift exchange will be held.

A Christmas dinner meeting of the Carpe Diem club was held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Hinamon north of Marion last Wednesday evening. During business session, Miss Louise Hinamon, incoming president, named committees for next year.

For dinner, served at 7 o'clock, table decorations were in keeping with the holiday season. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Miss Louise Hinamon, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Fred Hinamon.

Mrs. Paul Lill gave devotions. Roll call was "Favorite Christmas Carols." For the program, in charge of Mrs D M. Tower, carols were sung, and Mrs. Rudolph Risch presented a poem, "Song the Carolers Sing." The history of "Silent Night" was given by Mrs. Ruth Shoots. Gifts for the Christmas exchange, placed under a decorated Christmas tree, were distributed by Margaret Ann and Mary Kay Hinamon and Nancy Tower, who were guests. Secret sister names were drawn for next year. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. A. J. Loudenslager of 578 North Prospect street.

Named on new committees were Mrs. E. A. Williams, Mrs. Lill, Mrs. C. M. Peterson and Mrs. Charles Brady, porgram; Mrs W. S. Mitchell, Mrs. Martha Barkley, Mrs. Risch, Mrs. Loudenslager and Mrs. Aria Hinamon, refreshments; Mrs. Tower and Mrs. Shoots, flower and cards; and Mrs. O. C. Young and Mrs D. W. Hinamon, gift and purchasing.

The annual Christmas exchange for members of the Arbor Vitae club was held Friday at the home of the president, Mrs. E. E. Thomas on the Richland pike. Mrs. Urban Zachman conducted the devotions and read the Christmas story from the Bible and the group sang carols. Christmas thoughts were given in response to roll call. Mrs. Thomas named the following to serve as a program committee: Mrs. Alpheus Gruber, Mrs. Frank Fairchild and Mrs. John Wintermute. For the program Mrs. S. F. Wolfinger read a Christmas story. A meeting Jan. 7 will be with Mrs. Matilda Sunning of Windsor street when roll call will be on New Year's resolutions.

Mrs. Lillian Cook was hostess for a meeting of the Yappity Yap club recently at her home on Uhler avenue. Husbands of the members were guests. Lunch was served with appointments in keeping with the Christmas season. Mrs. Cook was presented a cake and gifts in honor of her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. John F Lacey of Windsor street was hostess for a meeting of the Junior Lecture-Recital club Monday evening. For roll call the members told something of interest on the subject, "Oratorios," and the same topic was discussed by Miss Wanda McMahan, a guest speaker. Mrs. Harry J. Mautz, state junior club councilor, gave a talk and a letter was read from a Chinese war orphan who has been adopted by the club. The letter also enclosed a snapshot of the protege. For the program hour Stephen Lacey, cellist, played three numbers, "To a Wild Rose," Mac Dowell, "The Swan," Saint Saens and "Catalina," Golterman, and Billy Wagner, baritone, sang "Old Man River," Kern and "Winter Wonderland." A piano duo by Mrs. Lacey and Nancy Breithaupt, "Spanish Rhapsody," Albeniz, completed the program. A short business session was held and there was a social hour and refreshments.

Anniversary Is Observed By Caledonia Couple

A family dinner and open house were events Sunday in the observance of the fifty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph May of Caledonia, held at their home. Dinner was served to 23, and during open house hours, 171 guests registered.

A special guest in the afternoon was Mrs. Mary Jack of Delaware, 94, only person now living who attended the wedding of the couple Dec. 5, 1883, and at both the dinner and open house, Mr and Mrs. Frank Nichols of North Baltimore, cousins of the celebrants, who observed their forty-ninth wedding anniversary Friday, were present. Five children of Mr and Mrs. May and members of their families attended the dinner and were present for the open house. They include Merrill May and Harold May, and Mrs. J. H. Miles, all of Cleveland, Mrs. J A. Coldwell of Caledonia, and Mrs. James Lingo of Shelby.

A group of men from the I. O. O. F. lodge, of which Mr. May is a member, attended the open house in a body. Gifts of flowers included two from the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodges.

Refreshments were served in the afternoon from a candlelighted table, and tea and coffee were poured from an old and valued silver service. A three-tiered white wedding cake was decorated in green in keeping with the emerald anniversary. Favors were lacquered holly leaves on which were written in gold the name and wedding date of the celebrants. A special feature was display of the couple's wedding book opened to their wedding picture.

Guests from out of town were from Cleveland, Crestline, Shelby, Cardington, North Baltimore, Ashley, Delaware, Westfield, Marion, Columbus, Bucyrus, Galion, Richwood, Mt. Gilead, Waldo, Edison, and Westerville.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smeltzer of Prospect entertained a group of relatives and friends Friday night in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The evening was spent socially and games were played. Refreshments were served. Present were Mrs. Frank Wilson of Richwood, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smeltzer of near Essex, Rev. and Mrs. Paul Dobberstein, Mrs. Mary Stratton, Mrs. Bertha Peary, Mrs. Edward Lauer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Lauer and son Tommy of Prospect. Mr. and Mrs. Smeltzer were honored by members of Mt. Olive Grange on Thursday evening when they were presented a cake in celebration of their anniversary.

SPARTAN
Bottle Warmer and Vaporizer

An Ideal Gift

Spartan's exclusive "percolating action" warms milk, baby foods, in much less time, and heats feed evenly from top to bottom. Hot water sprays against side of bottle or can of baby food, runs down into bottom well, is then driven upward and again sprayed against side of bottle. No scorched food on bottom while still cold on top. A nursing bottle of milk is heated from 40 degrees to 105 degrees in just two minutes. And evenly!

When used as vaporizer, it will steam for one hour, then shut off automatically, when water is gone. All parts easily replaceable in the home.

Available in rich burgundy or ivory plastic with polished gold-color metal panel.

ROTARY HEARS OSU EXECUTIVE

Quest for "Peace of Mind" Is Theme of Talk by Dr. Harlan Hatcher.

Dr Harlan Hatcher, vice president of Ohio State university, was guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club Tuesday noon at Hotel Harding, choosing as his topic, "The Man Who Found Peace of Mind."

Referring to the fact that yesterday marked the anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Dr. Hatcher said this historic happening brought about a change in the lives of all Americans, carrying them into a world war and the era of the atomic bomb. He commented that too many people are so busy and traveling at such rapid rate that they "forget to live."

As an example of a directly opposite mode of life, he spoke of Henry David Thoreau, who instead of making a living, sought the essence of living Thoreau, after graduation from Harvard university, gave up society and retreated to a small cabin in the Massachusetts woods by Walden pond There, Dr. Hatcher states, is where Thoreau began his experiment to find what the basis of life is. Thoreau found that he could supply himself with the absolutely necessary things by working for six weeks out of a year, whereas, most people rest for six weeks or less and only get a glimpse of what life is The other 46 weeks of the year are spent in obtaining the articles they feel are necesary to retain their respectability and to measure up to their station in life, the speaker said.

Dr Hacher chose Michael Montaigne, noted French writer and philosopher, as the second illustration. He pointed out what an understanding father Montaigne had. Voicing the belief, that today's parents ought to spend more time with their children, the OSU executive declared that in his opinion Montaigne's character and personality were influenced by his father's extremely considerate and often indulgent treatment of him The speaker stated that Montaigne, at the age of 38, retired to his Bordeaux estate to find the "essence of living and peace of mind."

Guests of the club, in addition to the speaker, were Robert T. Mason and Robert W. Solinger of Marion. Thomas L. Gatke of Chicago, and Elmer J. Perkins, a Rotarian from Canton. Student reporter from the Harding High school journalism classes was Mary Priode.

Rev. Edward J. Haldeman

Edison Evangelist Salem Church Preacher

Rev Edward J Haldeman, evangelist of Edison, O., will be the preacher for the second week of special pre-Christmas services at the Salem Evangelical United Brethren church near Marion southeast of Marion at the intersection of county roads 169 and 158, the pastor, Rev Andrew C Coldiron, announced. The services began Monday night and will continue through Sunday, Dec 19. For the first of this week, the pastor arranged for pastors of neighboring churches to speak. Rev. H V Falor of Oakland church of the denomination in Marion gave the message Monday night Rev. R L Sutherland of the Marion Greenwood church spoke Tuesday night, and tonight, Rev J W Martin of the Upper Sandusky charge will preach.

Thursday and Friday nights this week, Rev William E. Coldiron of Dearborn, Mich., son of the pastor and director of music of the Zolar tabernacle, and Rev C Donald Bibbler of Detroit, Mich., tabernacle pastor, will preach, and each will present special music Monday night next week, Rev. Haldeman will take over the preaching services and conclude the series. He has been in the evangelistic field conducting services throughout the country several years. Rev. Coldiron has announced a recent change of the pastor's home address to Cardington route 2.

BUCYRUS TAKES OVER LIONS PLAYGROUND

Club Turns Over Property Valued at $11,000.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Dec. 8—The Bucyrus Lions' club playground and ball park, valued at $11,000, became city property Monday night when council passed an ordinance providing for acceptance of a warranty deed for the land from the club to the city.

The park contains six acres of land and is located in the east section of the city opposite the Crawford county fairgrounds

Council also passed an ordinance providing for annexation of approximately 22 acres of land at the south edge of the corporation limits The annexation was sought by the Swan Rubber Co. which recently constructed a large warehouse on land situated in the annexed part With the land now within the corporation limits, fire protection will be provided the warehouse.

A working agreement between the city and 32 municipal employes, who are members of the International Union of Operating Engineers, an AFL union, was submitted to council and referred to its finance committee.

The agreement was signed by 22 of the approximately 33 city employes eligible for membership in the union.

The group is asking 15 per cent wage increases. All city employes were given a $10 a month raise last month. The agreement also provides for a minimum of 10 days and a maximum of 15 days vacation annually and 10 days sick leave annually for both salaried and hourly employes. It would be in force for one year

Mayor Richard L. Hertzer informed council that he has informed the state highway department of the need of erection of crossing gates at the West Mansfield street (route 30-N) crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad The railroad company also has submitted a request for erection of gates, the mayor said. The crossing has been the scene of 16 automobile-train collisions since 1940, resulting in the deaths of four persons and injury to 11 others.

OUT PLAY SCHEDULED

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Dec. 8—"Years Ago," a comedy by Ruth Gordon, will be presented Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights in the Willis high school auditorium in Delaware by the Ohio Wesleyan Players, university dramatics group. The nostalgic comedy is the true story of the girlhood of Miss Gordon and covers in the year 1913 The father of the family, a retired sea-captain, provides many laughs. During 1946-1947 the play was done on Broadway with Fredric March and his wife Florence Eldridge playing the father and mother.

TAX RATE

up since the 1947 schedule was computed, was instrumental in reducing the city tax rate for 1948.

The drop in rate is from 23 mills levied in 1947 and in 1946. That rate resulted principally from bond issues voted in 1945 and in the spring of 1946. These included the "jobs and progress" sewer bond issue, the airport bond issue and the school building program. Prior to the approval of those special issues by city voters, the tax rate was $16.

Highest individual tax rate in the county is being born by taxpayers in the village of Caledonia at $21.80 per $1,000, a rise from $18 in 1947. Next highest is for the village of Prospect at $20, a three-mill boost over 1947. Caledonia voted a two-mill operating levy for school purposes and Prospect a three-mill levy for the same purpose.

Lowest rate is paid by taxpayers in Marion township with an $8.02 rate which fell from $10.14 last year.

Other districts having levies going into effect with the 1948 duplicate include Morral which has two school levies starting at the same time, one for one mill to run five years and a second for two mills to go two years. The Morral village school district rate went up from $13.52 a thousand to $15.98 and the corporation rate from $15 to $17.50.

The New Bloomington village school district voted a five-mill levy for three years and Claridon two mills for three years to conclude the list of new levies figured in the 1948 rate in the respective districts.

SUN SETS CAR AFIRE

By The United Press

MINERAL WELLS, Tex.—Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cochran were returning home from a trip when they smelled smoke. It was the carpet flooring in the back seat of their car, set afire by sun rays shining through a large water bottle on the floor.
